Heraldic Description of Arms

Argent on a Cross Gules a Lion passant guardant between four Mullets of eight points Or a Chief Sable charged with an open Book proper thereon the word SCIENTIA in letters also Sable.

The lion and the four stars of the Southern Cross on the Cross of St George have reference to the State of New South Wales which brought the University into being; the open book with SCIENTIA across its page reminds us of its original purpose. Beneath the shield is the motto 'Manu et Mente' ('with Hand and Mind'), which is the motto of the Sydney Technical College, from which the University has developed. The motto is not an integral part of the Grant of Arms and could be changed at will; but it was the opinion of the University Council that the relationship with the parent institution should in some way be recorded.
Subjects, courses and any arrangements for courses including staff allocated, as stated in the Calendar or any Handbook or any other publication, announcement or advice of the University, are an expression of intent only and are not to be taken as a firm offer or undertaking. The University reserves the right to discontinue or vary such subjects, courses, arrangements or staff allocations at any time without notice.

Information in this Handbook has been brought up to date as at 9 October 1989, but may be amended without notice by the University Council.

Faculty Information

Arts Subject Timetable

The timetable for Arts subjects is published in a separate booklet and will be distributed to new students on final enrolment. Later year students will receive a copy of the timetable with their re-enrolment forms, which will be distributed before the end of the current year of study. Other students enrolling in Arts subjects may collect a copy from the Faculty of Arts Office, Room G1, Morven Brown Building.

Students in Years 2, 3 and 4 are reminded that alterations to the published timetable are occasionally made before the beginning of session. A check should be made with the appropriate school department during late February for times of Upper Level subjects.

General Education Requirement

The University requires that all undergraduate students undertake a structured program in General Education as an integral part of studies for their degree.

Among its objectives, the General Education program provides the opportunity for students to address some of the key questions they will face as individuals, citizens and professionals.

The program requires students to undertake studies in three areas:

A. An introduction in non-specialist terms to an understanding of the environments in which humans function.

B. An introduction to, and a critical reflection upon, the cultural bases of knowledge, belief, language, identity and purpose.

C. An introduction to the development, design and responsible management of the systems over which human beings exercise some influence and control. Studies in this area will be integrated into existing degree programs.

Students who have commenced their undergraduate program in 1988 and subsequent years must complete a program of subjects selected from the categories of studies in accordance with the rules defined in the General Education Handbook and in sequences specified in the requirements for individual courses.

Further information may be obtained from the office of the Centre for Liberal and General Studies, Room G58, Morven Brown Building and the General Education Handbook.

Textbooks

Text and reference books are not listed in this Handbook. The University publishes a separate Text and Recommended Book List for each faculty, which is available free of charge from the Faculty Office (Room G1, Morven Brown Building) from January each year.

Faculty of Arts Library Facilities

Although any of the University Libraries may meet specific needs, staff and students of the Faculty of Arts are mainly served by the Social Sciences and Humanities Library.
The Social Sciences and Humanities Library

This library is designed to serve the specialized reference and research needs of staff, graduate students and undergraduate students. All students are welcome to use the library and to borrow books from it. The main entrance to the Social Sciences and Humanities Library can be reached by taking the lift to Level 4 of the library building.

Social Sciences and Humanities Librarian—Pat Howard

Undergraduate Services

- The Open Reserve Section houses books and other materials which are required reading. Level 2.
- The Audio-Visual Section contains cassette tapes, mainly of lectures and other spoken word material. The Audio-Visual Section has wired study carrels and cassette players for student use. Level 3.
- The Reader Education program provides orientation tours and introductory library research method lectures to students.

Interdisciplinary Programs

Students interested in information about Undergraduate and Graduate interdisciplinary programs should contact the Dean's office, G87, Morven Brown Building (tel. 697 2339).

Technical Resources Centre

The TRC supports teaching and research activities that require technical facilities such as film, video tape, audio tape and computing.

The Language Laboratories are located in the complex on the first floor of the Morven Brown Building, and classrooms equipped for AV-assisted teaching are situated on both the first and second floors.

The Computer Laboratories are managed by the TRC.

Student Clubs and Societies

Students have the opportunity of joining a wide range of clubs and societies. Many of these are affiliated with the Students' Union. There are numerous religious, social and cultural clubs and also many sporting clubs which are affiliated with the Sports Association.

Clubs and societies seeking to use the name of the University in their title, or seeking University recognition, must submit their constitutions to either the Students' Union or the Sports Association if they wish to be affiliated with either of these bodies, or to the Registrar for approval by the University Council.

For information about the following Societies see under each School's entry in the Subject Descriptions section:

- The English Society
- The French Society
- The Geographical Society
- The German Society
- The Hispanic Society
- The History Students Association
- The Collegium Musicum Choir of UNSW
- The Psychological Society
- The Scientia Society
- The Socratic Society (School of Philosophy)

Student Representatives

Each year six student members are elected to the Faculty to represent all students studying Arts subjects. These students have full voting rights at Faculty meetings and committees and hence a direct input in decisions affecting Arts students.

Student representatives can be contacted through the Arts Faculty Office, Room G1, Morven Brown Building.

It is University policy to promote equal opportunity in education (refer to EOE Policy Statement, University of New South Wales Calendar and the Guide for Students 1990).
How to Use This Handbook

In planning your program for the BA, BSocSc, BMus or BA (Asian Studies) degrees, you should first read the section Subject Areas in the Faculty, which will give you an overview of subjects in the areas that interest you, even if they are taught by schools you might not have thought of looking at initially. Schools and programs offering a major sequence are identified by a three-letter code (e.g., AUS, Australian Studies Program, THS, School of Theatre Studies). This code will help you find the details of the subjects later in the Handbook, as it appears in the top corner of each page in the section Summary of Subjects, which gives you all the basic information about subjects and sequences in schools and programs, and the section Subject Descriptions, which includes full details on content, assessment, major sequences and Honours level entry.

Then read the section How to Structure Your Degree Program, to familiarise yourself with the requirements for the program in which you are enrolling. In most cases, you will need to read Rules Governing the Award of the Degree only if you have special problems related to, for instance, advanced standing or interruptions to your study program; they are the University's official regulations, and set down in 'legal' language what is and is not possible within the degree programs.

If you have problems deciding on your subjects, it is often a good idea to talk them over with a staff member from the school program in which you want to specialise; the staff in the Faculty Office will also be glad to help you with the 'nuts and bolts'. At the head of each section in Summary of Subjects you will find the official person to contact for advice about the subjects offered.

It is your responsibility to ensure that your program satisfies the requirements for the degree for which you are studying, and the Faculty can accept no responsibility for incorrect enrolments. The staff of the Faculty Office Room G1, Morven Brown Building are, however, happy to check your program at any time and advise you of any apparent anomalies.

How to Structure Your Degree Program

1. Bachelor of Arts

The basic requirements for the degree are:

1. a total of 108 credit points. Each subject offered by the Faculty has a credit point rating, depending on the number of hours taught and the type of subject.

2. no more than 48, and no fewer than 36, credit points obtained in Level 1 subjects (ie subjects designed for students in their first year of study). Of these, no more than 24 may be taken in subjects offered by the Faculty of Commerce and Economics, and no more than 12 in any one school or department.

3. a major sequence in one of the schools or departments listed below, normally carrying 36 credit points. (A major sequence is an approved progression of subjects taken over three years of study: you will find details under the entries in Subject Descriptions.)

ENL English
FRE French
GRS German Studies
HIS History
JAP Japanese
MUS Music
PHI Philosophy
POL Political Science
RUS Russian Studies
SAT Science and Technology Studies
SLS Social Science and Policy
SOC Sociology
SPL Spanish and Latin American Studies
THS Theatre Studies

4. at least 54 credit points gained in subjects outside the school/department in which you are majoring, so that your program does not become too one-sided.

How to Choose Your First Year Program

You should include the first year requirements for at least two major sequences in schools or departments in your program, as you must complete at least one to qualify for the degree. Find the subjects you need from the corresponding entries in Subject Descriptions: this will normally account for 24 credit points of your first year program. In deciding what other subjects to enrol in, look again at Subject Areas within the Faculty, to see which subjects best complement the ones you have chosen. These may not necessarily be 'close relations'; for instance, a foreign language may be extremely useful for a history major, and vice versa. Unless you are a part-time or mature student, you should enrol in subjects carrying at least 36 credit points. Students often start off with 48; it is quite possible and easy to drop the extra subject(s) if you find the program too heavy for you, or one of the subjects does not match your expectations.

Upper Level and Honours Entry

In structuring your program for second and third year (Upper Level), it is essential that you fulfil the requirements for a major sequence in the school(s) or department(s) in which you are specialising. If you have any doubts about them, make sure you consult a member of staff before enrolling in second year. Try to complement your major(s) with subjects which will provide you with skills and perspectives which will contribute to a broader and more critical approach to your special area(s) of interest. Major sequences offered by programs (eg AUS Australian Studies) are designed to provide this kind of context. Although, in most cases, they cannot be taken as the only major in your degree, they offer an interdisciplinary alternative to a second school-based major, or simply a way of giving more coherence to your other subjects. Comparisons and connections are often the best way of bringing the particular problems of an area of study into clearer focus. Here again, you will find Subject Areas in the Faculty useful; members of staff may be able to recommend particular subjects in other schools which will help you in the direction you wish to take.

While it is desirable that all Upper Level students seek advice on their program from their home school, it is essential for intending Honours students. If you want to proceed to fourth year Honours Level in one or two schools or programs, you should work out a program which fulfils the requirements for Honours Level entry with the Head of School or course coordinator concerned as early as possible in second year; with Combined Honours (Honours in two schools programs) in particular, this can avoid many later problems (eg missing prerequisites). Details of requirements for Honours entry can be found under the relevant entry in Subject Descriptions.

General Education Requirement

Following a resolution of the University's Council, students enrolling for the first time for undergraduate degrees within the Faculty of Arts from 1989 onwards are required to complete two subjects from the University's General Education Program, normally in the second and third year of study. For details, consult the Handbook of the Centre for Liberal and General Studies.
2. Bachelor of Social Science

The basic requirements for the degree are:

1. a total of 108 credit points. Each subject offered by the Faculty has a credit point rating, depending on the number of hours taught and the type of subject.

2. 48 credit points in the core subjects of the BSocSc degree program, each of which carries 6 credit points:

First Year

SLS
34.1000 Introduction to Social Science and Policy
SLS
34.1001 Introduction to Computer Applications

Second Year

SLS
34.2000 Social and Economic Theory and Policy
SLS

34.2002 Social Science and Policy

Case Studies

Third Year

SLS
34.3000 Advanced Research Methods

ECO
GOG
Geography
HIS
History
IND
Industrial Relations
MAT
Mathematics
PHI
Philosophy
POL
Political Science
PSY

Sociology

A major sequence is an approved progression of subjects in a school or program: you will find details under the relevant entry in Subject Descriptions. If you wish to take your major sequence in an area other than those above, you may apply to the course coordinator for special permission.

4. No more than 48, and no fewer than 36, credit points obtained in Level 1 (first year) subjects, including the two core subjects and the first year subject(s) of your major sequence.

How to Choose Your First Year Program

Enrol in the core subjects 34.1000 and 34.1001 (see 2. above); then choose two areas from 3. above you would like to major in, and enrol in the necessary first year (Level 1) subjects in both — this will give you a choice of major, if you change your preference during the year. You may select additional subjects from Subject Areas in the Faculty up to a total of between 36 and 48 credit points.

Upper Level and Honours Entry

In second, and third year, enrol in the prescribed core subjects (see 2. above) and the necessary subjects for your major sequence. The additional credit points can be taken either in the area you chose as a possible second major or in other Upper Level subjects. Try to spread your workload evenly over the four sessions of study.

For entry to Honours in the BSocSc degree course, you must have demonstrated, over the three years of the course, that you have reached a sufficient standard, and apply to the course co-ordinator for admission. If you wish to go on to Honours, you should ask staff in the program for advice on planning your course and defining your research interests at an early stage, perhaps during second year.

The BSocSc Honours Degree may be taken in two ways:

1. BSocSc Honours, with a Major in an approved area;
2. Combined BSocSc / approved area Honours. This program is undertaken in co-operation with a school offering a Combined Honours program.

For details see the relevant entries under Subject Descriptions and Undergraduate Study: 3420 Bachelor of Social Science Degree Course.

Note: In their first year of study, students may not enrol in subjects carrying more than 24 credit points in the Faculty of Commerce and Economics.

General Education Requirement

Following a resolution of the University’s Council, students enrolling for the first time for undergraduate degrees within the Faculty of Arts from 1989 onwards are required to complete two subjects from the University’s General Education Requirement, normally in the second and third year of study. 3. Bachelor of Music

The Department of Music offers a postgraduate Master of Music (MMus) degree by coursework and an undergraduate major sequence for the BA. The BMus degree equips students with an undergraduate degree with vocational qualifications, while providing a method of entry to the MMus course additional to that supplied by the Arts major in Music. It is also available as an Honours degree.

Enrolment in the BMus signifies a greater degree of specialisation in music. It requires successful completion of additional Music units and the development of vocational interests and skills beyond those already expected of all undergraduates pursuing a major sequence in Music. In doing so it builds on the experience common to all students up to the end of the second year of the BA major in Music. Conversion to the BMus course can only be made at the end of this second year. To qualify for admission, students must have completed the second year subject of the relevant major sequence in Music at a standard acceptable to the Department, normally Credit level or higher.

This degree differs from BMus degrees offered at some other institutions in placing its first emphasis on musicology and musicianship (while also allowing for assessment of formal performance in special cases).

The basic requirements for the degree are:

1. either of the major sequences listed below.

2. further credit points to a total for the degree of at least 108, chosen in accordance with Arts degree undergraduate regulations.

4. Bachelor of Arts (Asian Studies)

The Bachelor of Arts (Asian Studies) degree is designed as an integrated program combining language, a social science discipline and Asia-related study.

The study of Asian societies and Asian languages is increasingly important for Australia. Australia is located in the Asian region, most of its trade is with Asia and Asian countries are becoming important sources of investment in Australia. They are also becoming important areas for investment by Australian companies. Australia's future lies in increasing social, economic and political interaction with Asian countries. Graduates who combine proficiency in an Asian language and knowledge of one or more Asian countries with a discipline or professional qualification will be in increasing demand by both private and public employers.

The basic requirements for the degree are:

1. a total of 108 credit points. Each subject offered by the Faculty has a credit point rating, depending on the number of hours taught and the type of subject.
2. at least 60 credit points in Asian language and Asia-related subjects in accordance with Sequence A or B.

Sequence A

(i) 12 Level 1 and at least 24 Upper Level credit points in one of the following languages:
   - Chinese
   - Indonesian
   - Japanese

(ii) 24 credit points in Asia-related subjects prescribed for the Bachelor of Arts (Asian Studies) degree, of which at least 12 credit points should be at Upper Level.

Sequence B

(i) 12 Level 1 and at least 12 Upper Level credit points in one of the following languages:
   - Chinese
   - Indonesian
   - Japanese

(ii) 36 credit points in Asia-related subjects prescribed for the Bachelor of Arts (Asian Studies) degree, of which at least 24 credit points should be at Upper Level.

ECO  Economics
ECH  Economic History
HIS  History
IND  Industrial Relations and Organizational Behaviour
POL  Political Science
SAT  Science and Technology Studies
SOC  Sociology

If you want to take your major sequence in an area other than those above, you may apply to the course coordinator for special permission.

4. no more than 48, and no fewer than 36, credit points obtained in Level 1 subjects (i.e. subjects designed for students in their first year of study.)

Honours Level

Students are encouraged to consider a fourth Honours year of study. In order to be eligible you must have completed the prerequisites for Honours study in a school or department in the Faculty of Arts. Each school and department has individual requirements. You should consult the entry in the Handbook for the school or department in which you intend to focus your study. If you are considering proceeding to Honours Level study you should consult the BA (Asian Studies) course advisor before enrolling in your second year in order to ensure that you complete the necessary prerequisites.

General Education Requirement

Following a resolution of the University's Council, students enrolling for the first time for undergraduate degrees within the Faculty of Arts from 1989 onwards are required to complete two subjects from the University's General Education Program, normally in the second and third year of study. For details consult the Handbook of the Centre for Liberal and General Studies.

Summary of Subjects

Undergraduate Courses

The following is a list of subjects, arranged alphabetically by subject discipline, which are available for study in the Faculty of Arts. The list shows details of prerequisites, co-requisites and exclusions (subjects which cannot be counted in addition to the subject listed) as well as the number of credit points allotted to each subject and the session(s) when it is taught. The amount of class contact time per week for each subject (in lectures, tutorials, practicals) is shown in the column headed CCH (class contact hours).

Abbreviations Used
S1  Session 1
S2  Session 2
F   Full Year

HSC Exam Prerequisites
Subjects which require prerequisites for enrolment in terms of the HSC Examination percentile range refer to the 1978 and subsequent Examinations.
Candidates for enrolment who obtained the HSC in previous years or who hold other high school matriculation should check with the appropriate school on what matriculation status is required for admission to a subject.

§The specialised nature of these subjects and the restricted availability of resources may require that maximum enrolment be subject to some limitation.

†Supplemented by two workshop seminars each of 2-3 days.

††Supplemented by compulsory film screenings.
A subject is defined by the Academic Board as 'a unit of instruction approved by the University as being a discrete part of the requirements for a course offered by the University'.

Each approved subject of the University is identifiable both by number and by name as this is a check against nomination of subject other than the one intended.

Subject numbers are allocated by the Academic Registrar and the system of allocation is based on the following guidelines:

1. The authority offering the subject, normally a School of the University, is indicated by the number before the decimal point.
2. Each subject number is unique and is not used for more than one subject title.
3. Subject numbers may not be re-used with a new subject title within ten years of the prior use.
4. Graduate subjects are indicated by a suffix 'G' to a number with three digits after the decimal point. In other subjects three or four digits are used after the decimal point.

Subjects taught are listed in full in the handbook of the faculty or board of studies responsible for the particular course within which the subjects are taken. Subject descriptions are contained in the appropriate section in the handbooks.

The identifying numerical prefixes for each subject authority are set out on the following page.

Servicing Subjects are those taught by a school or department outside its own faculty. Their subject descriptions are published in the handbook of the faculty which originates the subject and are also published in the handbook of the Faculty in which the subject is taught.

HSC Exam Prerequisites
Subjects which require prerequisites for enrolment in terms of the HSC Examination percentile range, refer to the 1978 and subsequent Examinations.

Candidates for enrolment who obtained the HSC in previous years or hold other high school matriculation should check with the appropriate school on what matriculation status is required for admission to a subject.

Information Key
The following is the key to the information which may be supplied about each subject:

S1 Session 1, S2 Session 2
F Session 1 plus Session 2, i.e. full year
S1 or S2 Session 1 or Session 2, i.e. choice of either session
SS single session, but which session taught is not known at time of publication

L Lecture, followed by hours per week
T Laboratory/Tutorial, followed by hours per week

60.070 Time, Space and Community in Australia

W. Ashcroft, D. Walker
Prerequisite: 24 Level 1 credit points in Arts.
A study of the ways in which Australian culture has emerged through different discourses. Themes include views of the past, the writing of Australian histories, notions of cultural difference, the constitution of 'place' as a cultural phenomenon and principles of exclusion such as gender and race.

60.071 Encountering Aborigines: The Disciplinary Encounter and the Construction of Aboriginality

J. von Stürmer, A. McGrath
Prerequisite: 24 Level 1 credit points in Arts.
An examination of the ways in which western intellectual traditions and concerns have responded to the encounter with Australian peoples, and of the impact of this relationship on the development of various disciplinary studies within Australia, as well as on Australian art, literature, film and the media. Students are asked to engage in close reading of primary texts, including films and media reports.

60.090 Australian Legal Issues: The Relevance of Gender

G. Lloyd, R. Graycar
Prerequisite: 24 Level 1 credit points in Arts.
An interdisciplinary subject, taught jointly by staff from the School of Philosophy and the School of Law, examining some of the issues of contemporary legal significance in Australian society, and of the ways in which gender is relevant to them, including: abortion, custody, pornography, injuries to women. Please contact the School of Philosophy re availability.

60.091 Australia and the South Pacific

X. Pons
Prerequisite: 24 Level 1 credit points in Arts.
A study of Australian attitudes and policies towards the South Pacific region from 1788 to the present. An examination of how Australians have responded to what remained until fairly recently an uncongenial geographical setting. The study will be interdisciplinary, with primary emphasis on historical and political and secondary attention to cultural issues.

Honours Entry

Admission to the Australian Studies Honours Level program is by approval of the Program Committee. Students seeking admission to the Honours program must have obtained:

1. At least 42 Upper Level credit points in prescribed Australian Studies subjects, including a) the core subjects 60.070 and 60.071 b) no fewer than 6, and no more than 18, credit points from each of groups A and B above.
2. A pass at Credit level or better in all core subjects.
3. Passes in all Australian Studies subjects completed at a standard which satisfies the Program Committee.

60.840 Australian Studies Honours Research

Prerequisite: See above.
Students are required to undertake two seminar courses, and to prepare a thesis of 20,000 words which must be submitted before 1 November.

Graduate Study

An Australian Studies Program is also available at graduate level in the MA Interdisciplinary Studies degree course. See Graduate Courses later in this handbook.

Biological Science

The Year 1 course in Biology comprises subjects 17.031 and 17.041.

No more than 12 Level 1 and 12 Upper Level credit points from the subjects listed under Biological Science in the Summary of Subjects in this handbook may be counted towards the degree of Bachelor of Arts.
Level I

Prerequisite: HSC Exam Score Range Required

2 unit Science (Physics) or 53-100
2 unit Science (Chemistry) or 53-100
2 unit Science (Geology) or 53-100
2 unit Science (Biology) or 53-100
3 unit Science or 90-150
4 unit Science 1-50

Basic cell structure; membranes, organelles, prokaryotic and eukaryotic cells; cellular locomotion; basic biological molecules; enzymes; structure and metabolic roles, cellular compartmentalization and enzyme function; diffusion, osmosis and active transport; theory of inheritance, linkage, mutation, information transfer and protein synthesis.

Requirements for Practical Work

Equipment required for practical work is set out in the Course Guide, available during enrolment time at the First Year Registration Centre (Physics Building). Students must purchase this prior to the first week of session.

17.041 Biology B S2 L2T4

Prerequisite: 17.031 (However, students without this prerequisite may seek the permission of the Director of Biology 1 to enrol). Excluded: 17.021.

The evolution, diversity and behaviour of living things and the ways in which they have adapted to varying environments.

Emphasis on the structure and function of flowering plants and vertebrate animals, and their roles in Australian ecosystems. The theory covered in lectures and tutorials is illustrated by observation and experiment in laboratory classes.

Upper Level

17.050 Functional Adaptation in Biology S1 L2T4

Prerequisites: 17.031 and 17.041.

An introduction to functional relationships between living organisms and the environments in which they live. Illustration of structural, physiological, ecological and behavioural characteristics at both cellular and organismic level as examples of adaptations or neutral traits, and the evaluation of these attributes as the outcome of ecological and evolutionary selection. Selected areas of the subject will also serve as an introduction to the process of scientific enquiry.

17.702 Flowering Plants S2 L2T4

Prerequisites: 17.031 and 17.041. Excluded: 43.111, 45.111.

The development of plants from seedling stage to maturity, the structural and environmental controls, and the close relationship between structure and function in major plant systems. Topics are: the properties of plant cells and their walls in relation to growth; differentiation and how cells are organised into different tissues; transport systems and the movement of water and photosynthetic products; seed structure, the physiology of germination and its regulation by internal and external factors; primary and secondary growth and its regulation by plant hormones; shoot systems; leaf development; arborescence; adaptation to particular environments; root systems; mineral acquisition and water uptake; root growth and development; interactions of roots with micro-organisms and the impact of symbiotic associations such as mycorrhizas on root structure and physiology; evolution of the land plants; the significance of having an enclosed carpel and the evolution of the gynoecium. Cognitive Science

Cognitive Science has recently emerged as an exciting and fruitful domain of enquiry in which there has been a convergence of interests in a number of disciplines which deal with mind, language, knowledge and intelligence. The Cognitive Science movement is based on a broad consensus that the problems and issues do not belong exclusively to any one discipline, but fall collectively to all of them.

The Cognitive Science Program is designed to complement a School-based major sequence by grouping subjects within the fields of Philosophy, Psychology, Linguistics, and Computer Science, which have special relevance to Cognitive Science. It provides the opportunity for students who undertake one or more of the Level 1 subjects in the relevant disciplines to become acquainted with the broader enterprise of Cognitive Science through participation in the core subject 62.217U Computers, Brains and Minds, and to build upon that acquaintance in selecting further subjects from the program. Students should take the core subject in their second year of study.

Major Sequence

Entry to the program requires 12 credit points from the Level 1 prerequisite subjects listed below. A major in Cognitive Science requires not less than 24 credit points from the Upper Level subjects listed in the program, including the core subject. If you wish to major in Cognitive Science, these Upper Level subjects may not be counted toward a major sequence in a School or Department. In planning your program for the degree, you should make sure that you meet the prerequisite requirements of individual subjects, unless granted exemption by the subject authority.

Level 1 Prerequisites: 12 credit points obtained in any of the following subjects:

Economic History

Economic History as a discipline seeks to provide an understanding both of the present and the past through the study of economic development. It uses the methods of analysis of both economics and history. Students majoring in other disciplines and those concerned with area studies will find Economic History subjects that complement their major sequence. In certain circumstances Economic History subjects may also be counted towards a major sequence from another school in the Faculty of Arts. For details see under schools of History, Science and Technology Studies and Spanish and Latin American Studies.

Centring upon the years since 1800, traces the history of industrialisation from the emergence of the British economy, through the industrialisation of European nations to the industrial transformation of Asia and the rest of the world. The core concern is with the process of structural change during early industrialisation and the impact upon this of forces exogenous to national economies, for example: foreign trade, external organizational influence (foreign banking, transnational companies), technology transfers, human migration and foreign investment. The subject utilises ideas developed by economists and historians working in the area of economic development and structural change.

15.423H Approaches to Economic and Social History S1 L2T1

Shows that the historian concentrates upon particular problems and methods of analysis which define the subject of history as a discipline in its own right. One function of the course is to provide a degree of unity to the varied knowledge gained by students in other economic history courses; another is to allow students to come to grips with important problems of a general nature.
Arts

15.424H Aspects of Australian Economic Development S2 L2T1
Advanced topics in Australian economic development.

15.425H Seminar in Research Methods S2 T3

15.426H Thesis
Honours students in their final year are required to prepare a thesis of not more than 20,000 words which must be submitted before the final examinations in November. The thesis topic must be approved by the Head of the Department of Economic History before the end of the August recess in the year preceding the candidate’s entry into the 7th and 8th sessions of study.

Economics

Assessment in the Department of Economics is by essays, tutorial participation and examination. The relative weight of each of these varies from subject to subject and is announced in each subject at the beginning of each session. A minimum of 60% of total assessment will be by examination.

Major Sequence
All students must complete at least 36 credit points in Economics subjects, including:

- 15.101E and 15.102E;
- 15.201E or 15.221E or 15.203E;
- 15.202E or 15.222E or 15.204E.

They must also pass either (a) 15.101M or 15.102M and 15.103M; or (b) 15.100M. If they intend to take certain third year Economics subjects including 15.301E and 15.302E, they must also take 15.203M in their second year. Students should note that only subjects with a suffix E count towards credit points in Economics.

Since the maximum credit points obtained from subjects offered by the same School is 54, the remaining credit points may be obtained from other Economics subjects, provided that prerequisites and/or co-requisites are satisfied. Students wishing to become professional economists should take 15.301E and 15.302E.

Honours Entry
Students intending to do Honours in Economics should take during their first two years 15.101E, 15.102E, 15.221E, 15.222E, 15.101M or 15.102M, 15.103M, 15.203M, 15.204M and obtain at least an average of Credit or better in Upper Level subjects. They then take 15.321E and 15.322E in their third year and 15.420 Economics Honours (Arts) in their fourth year.

Education

Education embraces both theory and practice. As an area of study, Education crosses the boundaries between a number of disciplines and includes aspects of philosophy, sociology and psychology, and addresses their interaction with the learning and teaching processes.

Level 1

58.041 Educational Psychology 1 S1 2CCH C4

Begins the study of Educational Psychology by examining some aspects of development, and learning and instruction. Topics will include cognitive development, development of memory and learning and problem solving strategies, basic learning and motivational processes and an introduction to instructional methods.

54.042 Sociological Perspectives on Education

Examines major sociological perspectives such as structural-functionalism, conflict theory, symbolic interactionism and phenomenology, as they relate to education. Examines the role of the school as an agent of socialisation with particular attention to such issues as gender, deviance, social class and ethnicity.

Upper Level

58.043 Theories, Values and Education S1 2CCH C4

Not offered in 1990.

Key issues in educational theory, including the justification of educational theories, purpose and value in education, neutrality, indoctrination and controversial issues, equality of educational opportunity, authority, freedom and rights, and sexism in educational ideals.

58.044 Educational Psychology 2 S2 2CCH C4

Prerequisite: 58.041.

Not offered in 1990.

This subject continues the examination of instructional methods with an increasing emphasis on curriculum-specific areas of psychology such as reading fluency and comprehension, processes involved in meaningful prose construction, and learning and problem solving in mathematics, the humanities and the natural and social sciences.

58.045 Schools, Knowledge and Power in Society S1 2CCH C4

Not offered in 1990.

Analyses the role that schools including universities play in disseminating and legitimating knowledge, and in reproducing and reconstituting social and power relations within social formations. Discussion of major theoretical viewpoints eg liberal rationalism, neo-Marxism, pragmatism, critical theory, along with contemporary research undertaken both within schools and on the relationship of the schooling experience to the social expectations of the emerging adult.

English

English is a discipline for students with a special interest in literature and language. It is not compulsory within the Faculty of Arts: the subjects are therefore planned for students who have both a genuine interest in the subject and some special ability in it, including an ability to write English without obvious error. It is desirable that students enrolling in English should have obtained one of the following in the New South Wales Higher School Certificate Examination: 3 unit English, percentile range 1-100; 2 unit English, percentile range 31-100; 2 unit General English, percentile range 61-100.

Students who have successfully completed English at Level I may enrol in Upper Level English courses without necessarily pursuing a major in the subject.

The usual prerequisite for enrolment in an Upper Level English subject is a Pass in Level I English. It is likely, however, that a student who has not fulfilled this prerequisite will be interested in the material covered in one or more of our Upper Level subjects. Such a student may seek the special permission of the Head of School to have the prerequisite waived. In considering such requests, the School will give strong preference to a candidate with a successful year's work in another language, or a Credit or better in a related discipline. In cases where the stated prerequisites for Upper Level subjects have not been met, students should make written application to the Head of School.

Major Sequences

Students may take a major sequence in either 1. English Literature or 2. English Language and Linguistics or 3. English Literature and English Language and Linguistics.

1. English Literature

The major sequence is:

(Research)

Prerequisites: See Honours Entry earlier in this section.

Course work and seminars and preparation of a thesis. In Session 1 students are required to choose two courses from a range of at least six, depending on student demand and staff resources. The broad range of offerings is designed to enable students to conduct more intensive study in areas relating to special interests developed during earlier years of their English programs. The choice of courses varies from year to year. In 1990 students can choose from the following:

The intellectual revolutions of the seventeenth century in England established the foundations for the basic assumptions of our age and also determined our view of the functions and capacities of language, the opposing intellectual methodologies (faith vs reason, knowledge as the means to virtue rather than power, control over, vs participation in, the universe, the Bible vs Nature) went to war in prose, which was itself conditioned by these forces. Traces the gradual appropriation of English prose, by scientific attitudes.

2. The eighteenth century aesthetic movement in literature and landscape.

The development of philosophical ideas in the Eighteenth century and the way they affected the close relationship between literature and landscape in the period.

3. Reflections of nineteenth century thought in prose.

A study of the major currents of thought in the nineteenth century as expounded in prose texts which greatly influenced English writers of the time and which also have intrinsic literary merit. Where appropriate, reference is made to fiction which reflects on the concepts under discussion. The areas to be examined are: literary criticism, utilitarianism, religion, art, education and science.

4. Menace and manipulation in modern British drama and fiction.

The points of departure and the philosophical and ideological issues implicit in the work of selected contemporary novelists and playwrights. The 'manipulative' forms and techniques of these writers in relation to their themes (including, inter alia, the nature of evil, menace and the absurd, the struggle for power, ontological instability).

5. Twentieth century critical theory.

Examines some major figures in twentieth century critical theory in England and Europe, including I.A. Richards, W. Empson, M. Bakhtin, R. Barthes, J. Derrida, W. Benjamin.

6. Twentieth century women prose writers.

The influences on and development of the novel and short story forms, and the nexus between practice and critical theory.

7. The presentation of science in literature.

An explanation of some of the ways in which the ideas, values and point of view of science have been integrated into literature, how modified for literary and propagandist... purposes and how they have, in turn, modified literary forms and conventions. The course will cover the following sub-sections: Science as Ideas, Scientists as Characters, Science as Sociological Propaganda, Science Fiction.

8. Art and text in Australia.

The relationship between literature and the graphic arts in this country.

In Session 2 students prepare and present a thesis of approximately 15,000 words based on research conducted on a topic to be chosen in consultation with the Head of School and other members of staff where appropriate. Students are strongly advised to begin such consultation as early as possible. Throughout both Session 1 and Session 2 students are expected to participate in regular ‘thesis workshops’. These involve seminars on research techniques and in Session 2 provide opportunities for students to discuss specific problems arising from their individual research programs. Members of staff and postgraduate research students also contribute to these workshops.

European Studies

Like the Australian Studies Program, the European Studies Program is designed to complement a School-based major sequence by enabling students to construct an interdisciplinary “context” from the wide variety of subjects on aspects of European society and culture offered within the BA program. It provides an excellent extension to a major in English or a European language, as well as a European focus for a major in a social science. Although all subjects are taught in English and require no previous foreign language study, students are strongly advised to include some study of a European language in their degree program. Such study is essential for progression to Combined Honours (see below).

Major Sequence

If you wish to major in European Studies, you must enrol in subjects which you are not already counting towards a major sequence in a School or Department. In planning your program for the degree, you should make sure that you include any necessary prerequisites for these subjects.

Level 1
Prerequisite/Co-requisite (from 1990):

HIS

51.511 The Emergence of Modern Europe c.1500-1815

Upper Level
At least 24 credit points from the subjects listed below (each carrying 6 credit points), including at least 12 credit points from the core subjects.

The European Enlightenment developed the concept of a just and rational society, based on the rationality and perfectibility of ‘man’. Explores the successes and failures of enlightenment: the extent to which its emancipatory program was achieved through revolution and reform, and the reasons for its apparent failures. Basic issues like the definition of progress and the relation between reason and feeling will be discussed from an interdisciplinary perspective and related to the social, philosophical and literary context in which they arose.

These topics will be approached from an explicitly interdisciplinary perspective.

Honours Level

60.405 Combined Honours (Research) in European Studies

French

Subjects offered by the School at undergraduate level are made up of studies in the following areas: Language and Linguistics, Literature and Thought, French and Francophone Studies, Methodology.

Language and Linguistics. In language subjects, the emphasis is on helping students to acquire a command of modern French, and French is the language of instruction. The courses integrate the various linguistic skills of understanding, speaking, reading and writing, through programs involving techniques such as group work, role play, interactive video. Upper Level language options focus on intense practical work, corrective phonetics, or linguistics both pure and applied. All language courses also involve comparative cultural studies.

French Literature and Thought. In subjects devoted to literature and thought the language of instruction is French. Training is given from Year 1 onwards in the techniques of literary analysis and criticism through the close study of individual texts, and in various methodological approaches to literature. Periods studied range from the Renaissance to the present day. These subjects also examine the relationship between literature and social history.

French and Francophone Studies. In this section, the emphasis is on the civilization and society of France and the French speaking countries. Although literary texts are sometimes studied, subjects in this category mostly concentrate on ideas and trends of thought pertaining to a particular socio-historical context. Some subjects also focus on French-Australian relations since the discovery of Australia. In most of the subjects belonging to this category, use is also made of non-literary and media material.

Students are invited to collect from the secretary of the School of French information sheets, course descriptions, book lists, sequence of subjects and general information about the School. Students should also consult the School noticeboards for all information relating to first meetings, prior to the commencement of the academic year.

Note

(a) Students should note that a Pass Conceded (PC) in a language subject does not allow progression to Higher Level language subjects.

(b) Some subjects are offered in English and open to all students with Upper Level status in the Faculty of Arts or equivalent. (See Upper Level, Options.)
Major Sequence
At least 39 credit points including 12 Level 1 credit points. The Major must include: 56.301 or 56.524, for students who started in C or D streams (56.523 or 56.524); 56.226, for students who started in A or B streams (56.501 or 56.510).

In addition C and D stream students are required to do one upper level option from each of the three categories, Language, Literature and Civilisation, and not more than three options from any one category.

B stream students are required to do at least one option from each of two of the three categories Language, Literature and Civilisation.

Note: Students who commenced a Major in French in 1989 or before are not bound by these restrictions on choice of options by categories.

Honours Entry
Honours: For C or D stream students: at least 51 credit points, including a major sequence, offered in the School of French: students must complete 12 Level 1 credit points, plus at least 39 Upper Level credit points (which must include 56.234 and 56.321) at an average grade of Credit or better.

Assessment
Most classes are of seminar and tutorial type and most teaching is conducted in French. In core language subjects, students are expected to attain a prescribed proficiency level, and to satisfy all other assessment required throughout the year. In other subjects, assessment is continuous and, depending on the subject, is based on some combination of class tests, written or oral exposés, essays, or weekly assignments.

The French Society
The main aim of the French Society is to afford students the opportunity of expressing their interests in French language and culture. This is being done at present through a wide range of social activities including dinners, wine and cheese soirees, films, a play production and so on. Possibilities for enjoying French language and culture are endless but depend on the initiative and motivation of students of the School.

Normal School prerequisites must be met for the completion of subjects offered within Schools. Students interested in having their completion of a program in Gender Studies recorded on their academic transcript should consult with the convenor.

For subjects offered within Schools see under Subject Areas in the Faculty.

Geography

Geography is the study of variations from place to place on the earth's surface arising from the spatial relationships of the phenomena which make up the world of humanity. Particular emphasis in human geography is placed on the spatial organization of human activities, especially within urban systems.
Several subjects in Geography include laboratory and project work involving the use of quantitative techniques. Students may need a battery-operated calculator. Students may be required to supply some laboratory materials as indicated at the beginning of session.
Where a field tutorial is a compulsory part of a subject, students are required to meet accommodation costs (the School takes steps to keep these to a minimum) and may also be required to contribute towards fares.
Assessment in the School of Geography is normally by a combination of course work and examinations, although the procedure varies between subjects. Full details are given for all subjects by the principal lecturers concerned at the commencement of each session.

Students intending to study at Honours Level in Geography are particularly directed to enrol in 27.813 Geographic Methods in Year 2, enabling them to attempt 27.884 Advanced Geographic Methods in Year 3 and thus qualify for entrance to Year 4. Students achieving graded passes may elect to study Geography at Honours Level at the end of Year 2 with the approval of the Head of School.

Major Sequence

12 Level 1 and at least 24 Upper Level credit points including 27.813 Geographic Methods.

Honours (Research) Entry

Students must satisfy Faculty of Arts requirements for entry to Honours programs and must have obtained at least 54 credit points in Geography, including 12 Level 1 credit points. A minimum cumulative average at Credit grade is required for all Upper Level subjects taken which must include 27.884 Advanced Geographic Methods.

The Geographical Society

It is hoped that students taking geography as a subject will participate in the activities organised by the Geographical Society. The Society is open to new ideas and to students who are concerned with fostering an interest in geography outside their formal studies. Informal seminars are organised on subjects of interest to geographers.
Social activities have always been an important part of the Society and they have provided more than adequate opportunities for students to get to know each other and for students and staff to improve communications.

German Studies

Two distinct major sequences are offered: in German Language, Literature and Civilisation, and in Central European Studies. Students majoring in the former area are strongly advised to choose at least some of their supporting subjects for the degree course from the Central European Studies program to complement their work. Students majoring in either area will also benefit from taking subjects in the European Studies program or another language.

1. German Language, Literature and Civilisation

The basic aims of this sequence are to acquire: a sound reading knowledge of German; a command of basic conversational and written German; an understanding, through the study of German literature and history of the last two centuries, of the way in which German society has developed, and in what ways it differs from, and is similar to, our own.

Level 1 subjects
1. 64.1000 Introductory German A is designed for students with no previous knowledge of the language;
2. 64.1601 Intermediate German A is designed for students with a good knowledge of German (eg HSC 2 or 3 Unit German or equivalent).

Students from both streams may complete a major sequence in three years or a degree at Honours level in four. Native speakers enrol in 64.1501.

Students wishing to take Year 1 German should enrol in the subject which seems appropriate to their qualifications. This enrolment is to be regarded as provisional only, and the School reserves the right to determine, on the basis of the student’s knowledge of German, the subject in which he or she may enrol.

The School also offers three specialised language subjects for business and tourist purposes, which do not form part of the major sequences.

Teaching and Assessment
All teaching in the School is carried out in small groups. Depending on the subject matter, the character of the teaching ranges from tutorial through informal lecture-tutorial to seminar. There are no formal examinations. Every effort is made to present assessment to students as part of the learning process. Assessment is continuous and ranges from informal class tests in language and in those options where information transfer is dominant, to essay, take-home test and/or oral in seminars. Oral participation is taken into account when determining a final grade; it is encouraged through 'Referate' (often linked to the essay to be submitted at the conclusion of the seminar) and less structured discussion.

Language of Instruction
Wherever possible, language courses are conducted in German. Literature and history subjects are taught in English in Year 1, although some attempt is made to introduce German in second session. In the later years, more than half of the seminars are conducted in German: this reflects a conscious attempt to balance the obvious gain in linguistic competence achieved by discussion in German with the freer and less inhibited exchange of views, the more rapid progress and the ‘external viewpoint’ of discussion in English.

Notes: 1. From 1989 onwards, Upper Level programs in the School of German Studies have been substantially restructured. Re-enrolling students should consult the School’s handbook for information on the correct progression of subjects for a major sequence.
2. Variations to the above sequences may be approved by the Head of School.
3. Subjects in the German Studies area in other schools, or from the School’s Central European Studies program, may also be counted towards a major sequence provided that: (a) a substantial proportion of texts or sources is read in German, and (b) there is no substantial overlapping with other subjects offered by the School.

2. Central European Studies

These subjects are designed primarily for students who wish to gain a thorough grounding in the history and culture of the German-speaking countries without undertaking a full study of the language. All subjects pre-suppose no previous knowledge of German, though in some years students are offered the possibility of acquiring a reading knowledge in 64.2110 and 64.3110. They may be profitably combined with a major in English or another language, or in a social science. There is a prerequisite of a minimum of 24 credit points in subjects offered by the Faculty of Arts for this group of subjects.

Major Sequence
At least 24 credit points gained in any of the subjects listed below (excluding 64.2110, 64.3110 and 64.2111) together with 12 credit points gained in approved Level 1 subjects in other schools (eg History 51.511, Sociology 53.001). With the approval of the School, Upper Level subjects in the Central European Studies area in other schools may also be counted towards a major sequence, but in any case at least 18 credit points must be gained in subjects offered by the School of German Studies.

Honours Entry
The School does not offer an Honours program in Central European Studies. However, a student who has completed a major sequence together with 64.2110 or 64.3110 German Reading Courses for Humanities Students A and B (or is able to demonstrate equivalent reading ability in German) at an acceptable standard may be admitted to a Combined Honours program with the agreement of the other school concerned.

History

The School of History offers a variety of Level 1 and Upper Level subjects, giving students a wide range of options at all levels. Subjects are mainly concerned with aspects of modern history and related to periods and themes in Australasian, Asian, European and American history. General theories and problems of historical explanation are also studied, and the techniques of researching and writing history.

Class contact in most subjects offered is three hours per week. (Details of lectures, seminars, tutorials, etc., are available from the School of History; lecture timetables may be consulted at the Faculty of Arts office, Room G1, Arts Building). Most of a history student’s working time, however, is spent in the University library or in private study, preparing papers to be read at tutorials and seminars, and writing the required essays.

Assessment in all full-year and some session-length subjects involves one or two essays per session and an unseen examination. In some subject student participation in tutorials and/or seminars is also assessed. For details of assessment in particular subjects, consult the School of History.

Details of a major in History, and of the requirements for entry to Year 4 Honours, are listed below. It should be noted that 1. under Faculty rules a student may complete only one Level 1 History subject (12 Level 1 credit points) and that 2. all Upper Level History subjects have prerequisites.

Level 1 and Upper Level subjects provide training through the discipline of History in the skills of social research, the interpretation and evaluation of historical evidence and writing, the formation of discriminating judgements, and the effective communication of information and ideas. Honours and postgraduate students develop these skills to a high level through further course work and research.

Major Sequence
12 Level 1 and 24 Upper Level credit points in subjects offered by the School of History.

Honours Entry
Students must satisfy Faculty of Arts requirements for entry to Honours programs, and must have obtained, at Credit level or better, at least 54 credit points in the School of History, including six credit points for the subject 51.999 Pre-Honours Seminar and not more than 12 Level 1 credit points. (The School may grant permission to count 6 credit points obtained in History subjects offered by other schools or departments.)

History Students Association
The History Students Association was formed to assist students of History to develop an interest in the subject outside their formal studies.

In pursuit of this objective the Association presents guest speakers, holds film showings, wine and cheese functions and arranges other activities. It is hoped this year to expand the program to include as wide a variety of activities as possible to cater for the interests of as many students as possible.
All students in the School of History are members of the History Students Association.
Please address all enquiries to the School of History, or to: The Secretary, UNSW History Students Association, School of History, The University of New South Wales, PO Box 1, Kensington, NSW 2033.

Law

A very limited number of places in subjects offered by the Faculty of Law may be available to Arts students in 1990. Detailed information and timetables are available from the Faculty of Arts office. Students in the Faculty of Arts who are interested in taking a law subject are asked to complete a separate application form as part of their re-enrolment procedures and are then notified by mail of the outcome of their application.

Law subjects are valued at 4 or 6 Upper Level Arts credit points.

In the case of students enrolled in the combined Arts Law course (4760), such subjects will be counted as Law subjects and not as part of the normal BA degree course sequence.

Mathematics

While Mathematics as a major study is usually taken in the Science and Mathematics course, it may also be taken in the Faculty of Arts.

First Year Mathematics

10.001 is the standard subject and is generally selected by students who intend to pursue further studies in mathematics.

10.011 is aimed at the more mathematically able students, including those who may wish to take a degree at Honours level in Mathematics. It covers all the material in 10.001, plus other topics, at greater depth and sophistication.

While it is expected that students aiming at Honours level in Mathematics will take this subject, it is equally valuable for any mathematically able students whose course requires a considerable amount of mathematics.

10.021B and 10.021C is the usual course for students who do not intend studying Mathematics beyond Year 1 but whose studies require some knowledge of basic mathematical ideas and techniques.

Students who select 10.021B and 10.021C units should weigh seriously the implications of their choice because no further mathematical units are normally available. Students with meritorious performance in 10.021C may be permitted to proceed to a certain limited number of Year 2 mathematics subjects intended for biologists and chemical engineers.
Higher Level Mathematics

Many subjects in the School are offered at two levels. The higher level caters for students with superior mathematical ability. Where both levels are offered, the highest grade awarded in the ordinary level is Distinction, except in exceptional cases.

Students with Low Mathematical Qualifications

The School of Mathematics arranges a Bridging Course in Mathematics for those students intending to enrol in Mathematics 1 and who have inadequate mathematical background. The Bridging Course covers the gap between 2 unit and 3 unit Mathematics and is a very useful refresher course generally. The course is held at the university during the period January to February each year.

Attention is also directed to the Calculus Bridging Course given over the University of NSW Radio Station VL2UV. The radio course, which is also available on cassette, explains the ideas of calculus and assumes no previous knowledge of the subject.

Mathematics Prizes

There are prizes available for certain courses in the School of Mathematics. They are open to all students proceeding to an undergraduate degree or diploma at the University but are not awarded if there is no candidate of sufficient merit.

Details of these prizes may be found in the section Scholarships and Prizes later in this handbook.

Major Sequences in Mathematics

It is possible to do a major sequence in Mathematics (general) or in each of the Departments of Pure Mathematics, Applied Mathematics and Statistics. In all cases students must take the subject Mathematics 1 (10.001) or Higher Mathematics 1 (10.011) in Year 1 and it is also strongly recommended that they include the Level I subjects 6.711 and 10.081 in Year 1. The subjects required in Years 1 and 2 for the various major sequences are listed below. It should be noted that because of the close inter-relations of subjects in the different departments some Level II subjects not in a particular major sequence may nevertheless be essential prerequisites for Level III subjects in the major sequence and so must be included in the student's program. Such essential prerequisites are noted below.

Mathematics (general)

In Year 2 of their course students must take the subjects 10.111A, 10.1113, 10.1114, 10.2111 and 10.2112 (or the Higher equivalents 10.121A, 10.1213, 10.1214, 10.2211 and 10.2212). In Year 3 of their course students must take Level III Mathematics units with a total credit point value of at least 16.

Pure Mathematics

In Year 2 of their course students must take the Pure Mathematics subjects 10.111A, 10.1113 and 10.1114 (or the Higher equivalents of 10.121A, 10.1213 and 10.1214).

In Year 3, they must take Pure Mathematics subjects 10.1111, 10.1112, 10.1121 and 10.1128 (or the Higher equivalents 10.1228 and 10.1321 or 10.1421), and in addition further Level III Pure Mathematics subjects with a total credit point value of at least 8.

Note: Applied Mathematics subjects 10.2111 and 10.2112 (or the Higher equivalents 10.2211 and 10.2212) are essential prerequisites for the Level III Pure Mathematics subjects and so should be included in Year 2 of the course although not part of the major sequence.

Applied Mathematics

In Year 2 of their courses students must take the Applied Mathematics subjects 10.2111, 10.2112 and at least two of 10.2113, 10.2115 and 10.2116 (or their Higher equivalents 10.2211, 10.2212).

In Year 3 they must take at least four of the Applied Mathematics subjects 10.212A, 10.212B, 10.262A, 10.212D, 10.212L, 10.212M, 10.212N.

Note: Pure Mathematics subjects 10.111A, 10.1113 and 10.1114 (or their Higher equivalents 10.121A, 10.1213 and 10.1214) are essential prerequisites for the Level III Applied Mathematics units and so should be included in Year 2 of the course although not part of the major sequence.

Statistics

In Year 2 of their course students must take the Statistics subjects 10.311A, 10.311B, 10.3111 and 10.3112 (or their Higher equivalents 10.321A, 10.321B, 10.3211 and 10.3212).

In Year 3 they must take Statistics subjects to a total value of at least 16 credit points, chosen from 10.312A, 10.312C, 10.3121, 10.3122, 10.3123, 10.3124 (or their higher equivalents 10.322A, 10.322C, 10.3221, 10.3222, 10.3223, 10.3224) and also from 10.312F, 10.322D.

Note: 10.312F has no higher equivalent; 10.322D is a higher subject with no ordinary level equivalent.

Note: Pure and Applied Mathematics subjects 10.111A, 10.1113 and 10.2112 (or their Higher equivalents 10.121A, 10.1213 and 10.2212) are essential prerequisites for the Level III Statistics subjects and so should be included in the Year 2 of the course although not part of the major sequence.

Honours Level Programs in Mathematics

There are three separate Year 4 Honours level programs: 10.123 Pure Mathematics 4, 10.223 Applied Mathematics 4 and 10.323 Theory of Statistics 4.

The four-year program for a degree at Honours level is intended primarily for professional pure mathematicians, statisticians or applied mathematicians, but is of interest also to intending specialists in mathematical areas of social sciences, physical sciences and engineering.

For entry to these Honours Level programs students should complete a major sequence (as indicated above) in the appropriate department with most subjects of the major sequence taken at Higher Level. It is also desirable that most of the additional Year 2 subjects noted as essential prerequisites should also be taken at Higher Level.

Students seeking a degree at Honours level in Mathematics are advised to choose mathematics subjects according to their individual interests in consultation with senior members of staff in the School. In particular, since entry to Year 4 is only with approval of the Head of School, students should at the beginning of their Year 3 discuss their Year 3 programs with a professor of the Department in which they intend to take Honours. In special circumstances additional prerequisites may be required or some of those listed may be waived.
Special Note for Pure Mathematics Honours

Since there are no clear Higher equivalents to many Pure Mathematics subjects, students intending to do Honours in Pure Mathematics should note that they should take the Higher Pure Mathematics subjects 10.121A, 10.1213 and 10.1214 in Year 2 and 10.122B and either 10.1321, 10.1322, 10.1323, 10.1324, 10.1325 and 10.1326, or 10.1421, 10.1422, 10.1423, 10.1424, 10.1425 and 10.1426 in Year 3.

Students wishing to do Honours in Applied Mathematics are advised to discuss their second and third year programs at the start of Year 2.

Modern Greek

Modern Greek was offered for the first time by the University of New South Wales in 1989. At present, only First Year (Level 1) subjects are offered. Students wishing to continue their studies may apply to enrol in Second and Third Year subjects at the University of Sydney.

The basic aims of the subjects offered are to help students to acquire a sound reading knowledge of Greek, a command of basic conversational and written Greek, and an understanding, through the study of Greek literature and history, of the way in which Greek society has developed.

Level 1 Subjects offered:
1. 60.500 Introductory Greek A is designed for students who have no prior knowledge, or a very limited knowledge of the language.
2. 60.501 Introductory Greek B is designed for students with a moderate knowledge of the language, i.e., who can read, write and speak Greek at a reasonable level.
3. 60.502 Introductory Greek C is designed for students who have done Modern Greek at HSC level and have achieved a satisfactory result. Students who have attended High School in either Greece or Cyprus will be expected to enrol in this subject.

Note: Students who wish to take Modern Greek should enrol in the subject that seems most appropriate to them. However, the subject co-ordinator reserves the right to alter the enrolment, according to the student's knowledge of the language.

Teaching and Assessment

Students in each of the above Modern Greek subjects attend six hours of classes a week. All teaching in Modern Greek Studies is carried out in small groups except for the Greek Literature and Greek History sections.

Assessment is continuous and ranges from informal class tests to literature and history essays and class oral and written presentations. Oral participation in all classes is also taken into account when determining the final mark.

Language of Instruction

Whenever possible, language courses are conducted in Greek. Literature lectures are mostly given in Greek with English explanations of difficult terms and points. The history lectures, however, are mainly given in English.

History and Culture - Common Strand for All Subjects

The History and Culture lectures focus on the social, political and cultural history of Greek speaking people in the modern world. The aims of this strand are: (a) to develop a general knowledge of recent Greek and Cypriot historical experience; and (b) to develop an ability to examine Greek issues in an informed and analytical manner.

60.500 Introductory Modern Greek A

Prerequisite: Nil. Excluded: HSC Modern Greek or equivalent.

This subject is divided into two sections: Language (5 h.p.w.); and History and Culture (1 h.p.w.). After completing the subject, students should be able to express themselves on everyday subjects, to read a modern short story using a dictionary and also to write a simple letter or a small composition.

Assessment: Language 75%; History and Culture 25%.

60.501 Introductory Modern Greek B

Prerequisite: Nil.

This subject is divided into three sections: Language (3 h.p.w.); Modern Greek Writing (2 h.p.w.); and History and Culture (1 h.p.w.). In the language component: two hours per week will be spent on language structure and associated written exercises; one hour per week will be devoted to oral work. The Modern Greek Writing component will consist of studying a selection of texts, including short stories and other literary works.

Assessment: Language 50%; Modern Greek Writing 25%; History and Culture 25%.

60.502 Intermediate Modern Greek A

Prerequisite: HSC Modern Greek or equivalent.

This subject is divided into three sections: Language (3 h.p.w.); Literature and Traditional Culture (2 h.p.w.); History and Culture (1 h.p.w.). The language component will aim at developing writing and aural/oral skills as well as expanding the students' vocabulary. The literature and traditional culture component will be studied partly to aid in the understanding of Greek society and Greek people and partly in the comprehension and appreciation of the language.

Assessment: Language 45%; Literature and Traditional Culture 30%; History and Culture 25%.

Music

Students taking degree courses in Music at the University of New South Wales (see list below) are encouraged to develop both their theoretical knowledge and their practical abilities. Some Upper Level options not included in the Arts music major sequence (Music 1C, 2C, etc) do not require previous musical training. Music 1A and Music 1B are first year subjects open to students with little previous musical training. From both Music 1A and Music 1B students may progress to a major sequence in music, providing they pass Music 1B at credit level or higher.
Students wishing to transfer from the BA to BMus degree program (See 3. Bachelor of Music under How to Structure Your Degree Program, earlier in this Handbook) should consult the Department of Music during their first year of study.

The Music Department offers the following degrees and courses of study: (1) A Music Major within the Bachelor of Arts degree; (2) the Bachelor of Music degree (BMus), a three-year degree course, with provision for honours in a fourth year. (3) the combined Bachelor of Music Bachelor of Education (BMus BEd) degree, a four year course run in conjunction with the School of Education within the Faculty of Professional Studies; (4) the Postgraduate Master of Music (MMus), MA or PhD degrees, for which the undergraduate degrees listed above are suitable preparation; (5) Music 1A, an introductory survey course of the history of Western music, and (6) Music 1B, an introductory course in musicianship and musical techniques. Both (5) and (6) are open to all undergraduates and do not have a musical prerequisite; (7) Upper level undergraduate subjects in music which are open to all interested students who have reached an appropriate stage of general university study; (8) General Education music subjects specially designed for the Centre for Liberal and General Studies.

Music studies in the Faculty concentrate on the texts or contexts of music, involve the active development of the student's musicianship and encourage the development of practical abilities. Performance groups run by the Music Department include: The Collegium Musicum Choir, The University of New South Wales Orchestra, Instrumental chamber groups, a vocal chamber group (The Burgundian Consort), an Early Music Group and a Bush Band. Practical guidance in the making of electronic music and studies of music in a social and ethnic context (ethnomusicology) are essential parts of the degree courses.

The Collegium Musicum Choir of the University of New South Wales, founded in 1975, is open to all students and staff of the University interested in choral singing. The choir rehearses each Wednesday evening from 4.30 - 7.30 pm and gives several public concerts each year, often with the Collegium Musicum Orchestra based on the Australia Ensemble resident at the University of New South Wales. For further details, please phone the Music Department on extension 4871, 4872 or 4870.

The University of New South Wales Orchestra was founded in 1989 and is open to students and staff of the University with the necessary instrumental performance standards. The orchestra rehearses each Tuesday evening from 6.30 - 9.00 pm and gives several public concerts each year. For further details, please phone the Music Department on extension 4872 or 4871.

61.200 Music in Renaissance Society

R. D. Covell

Prerequisite and exclusions: As for 61.100.

The Renaissance, though a contentious word in its historical application, is a useful collective term for the period of the 15th and 16th centuries in Europe - a period characterised in music by conspicuous patronage, significant developments in the groupings and resources of court, ecclesiastical and domestic music-making, standardisation of instrumental families, new developments in solo and concerted song, and an increasing preoccupation with the appropriate relationship of words and music. Sub-topics include: the nature and influence of patronage; instrumental symbolism and use; ideals and organisation of professional and domestic music-making.

J. Stubington

Prerequisite and exclusions: As for 61.100.

An introduction to ethnomusicological theory and method through an examination of traditional music in Australia. Ethnomusicology is often defined by referring to particular kinds of music which are considered to come within its province and there are two major traditions in Australia, traditional Australian Aboriginal music, and traditional Australian folk music, which fall clearly within its compass. These two musical traditions provide severe contrasts in sound sources and structures used, and in beliefs, behaviour and social organisation associated with musical performances. Together they provide a range of Australian music experience and material of sufficient diversity to explore and test the ethnomusicological approach.

Influential ideas of how musical 'Australianism' might be developed or recognised, including the theories of Percy Grainger, Henry Tate and others and the practice of composers as diverse as Peter Sculthorpe and George Dreyfus. The opinions of those Australian composers who reject the search for musical 'Australianism' as irrelevant are also taken into account. Extensive comparisons are made with parallel preoccupations and developments in other countries, notably in the United States.

Philosophy

Philosophy is a wide-ranging discipline, the scope of which is indicated by the subjects listed below. Apart from providing considerable choices for students majoring in Philosophy, the diversity of Upper Level subjects makes it possible for students majoring in other disciplines to select subjects complementing their main interest.

Level I

There are two Level I subjects:

52.103 Introductory Philosophy A (Session 1)

52.104 Introductory Philosophy B (Session 2)

each with a value of 6 credit points. They can be taken separately, but new students, especially those intending to major in Philosophy, will normally enrol in both. However, a student can gain Upper Level status in Philosophy (qualify to enrol in Upper Level subjects) by passing in only one.

Upper Level Study

Students must be in at least Year 2 of study in the Faculty of Arts in order to take Upper Level work in Philosophy. All Upper Level subjects are completed in a single session. Each consists of 2 or 3 hours of lectures a week and is worth, respectively, 4 or 6 credit points. Except where special prerequisites are prescribed, subjects can be taken in any sequence. Each subject is designed to be self-contained, but particular groupings of subjects will enable students to pursue sustained treatments of particular areas or of historical developments in the treatment of issues.

In certain circumstances the prerequisites specified for subjects within this list may be waived, for example, in the case of students who have already studied similar material in other schools, or who wish to take isolated subjects relevant to another discipline without counting them as part of a Philosophy sequence. Students who feel they have a case for a concession of this kind should consult the School.

Major Sequence
A major sequence in Philosophy is a sequence of subjects offered by the School carrying at least 36 credit points including no more than 12 credit points in Level I subjects.

Subject to the approval of the School, which considers the individual subjects nominated by a student and the student's overall program in Philosophy, a student may be permitted to count up to 6 points offered outside the School toward a major sequence in Philosophy. For example, the School has, on occasion, allowed students to count particular subjects from the Schools of Science and Technology Studies, Political Science, and Law towards a major sequence in Philosophy. Students who have some interest in counting a subject from outside the School of Philosophy toward a major sequence in Philosophy should consult the School.

Note: The following subjects may be counted towards a major sequence in the School of Science and Technology Studies: 52.2040, 52.2130, 52.2140, 52.2170.

Selection of Subjects
Although students at Upper Level have a wide choice of subjects, they are advised to plan a sequence of mutually relevant ones, taking into account the prerequisites of those they may wish to take later. Information and School recommendations are available from the School and students needing assistance are encouraged to consult the School personally.

Honours Entry
From 1991, for entry to Philosophy Honours (Research), students must normally have completed 54 credit points in Philosophy, consisting of 6 or 12 points at Level I and the remainder at Upper Level, including 52.395 (Pre-Honours Seminar). Students who will have completed only 52 credit points are encouraged to seek the approval of the School for admission. In 1990, students will be admitted to Philosophy Honours (Research) with 48 credit points in Philosophy.

For Combined Honours (Research) the requirement is normally 6 or 12 points at Level I, plus 24 points at Upper Level, although this may be varied in consultation with the other School involved.

For both Honours programs, students may be permitted to count up to 6 points offered outside the School, where these are relevant to the program.

Students contemplating Honours are urged to seek advice from the School of their program early in their course.

Socratic Society
The Socratic Society is a student-run society which is associated with the School of Philosophy and meets on a regular basis. Its purpose is to promote discussion on topics of philosophical interest.

Level I
The following are Level I subjects with a credit point value as nominated.

52.103 Introductory Philosophy A S1 L2T1 C6
Stephen Cohen, Genevieve Lloyd, Phillip Staines
Prerequisite: Nil.

An introduction to philosophical thought and issues. Topic areas: the nature of argument; love and friendship in Greek philosophy; ethics and political philosophy.

Prerequisite: Nil.

A further introduction to philosophy through a study of traditional and contemporary discussions of three topic areas: words, signs and images; science and religion; ideas of utopia.

Upper Level
For some subjects, a prerequisite is Upper Level status in Philosophy. This consists in 1. being in Year 2 or later of university study, and 2. having taken and passed at least one Level I Philosophy subject (6 credit points). Students who studied Level I Philosophy subjects prior to 1978 should have gained Passes in two half-units in the same session. The prerequisite may be waived in certain cases by the School.

The following are Upper Level subjects with a credit point value as nominated.

Prerequisite: Upper Level status in Philosophy. Excluded: 52.2130, 52.2170.
Neil Harpley

The traditional empiricists - Locke, Berkeley and Hume - developed a substantial framework for theories concerning human nature and particularly for the consideration of issues arising in the attempt to explain our perception and knowledge of the world. The empiricist approach to these matters was revivified and became dominant in the first half of this century. Notable figures in recent empiricism include Russell and Quine and the leaders of the Logical Positivist movement. The subject will involve a study of the major concerns of traditional and modern empiricists.

Honours Level

Note: The School does not offer Honours programs by course work alone.

52.4000 Philosophy Honours (Research)
Prerequisite: In addition to general Faculty requirements, admission is subject to completion of a qualifying program containing at least 54 credit points in Philosophy, consisting of 6 or 12 points at Level 1 and the remaining points at Upper Level, including 52.395 (Pre-Honours Seminar), completed with a good overall Credit record and with indication of ability at Distinction level or better. Students who will have completed only 52 credit points are encouraged to seek the approval of Philosophy Honours (Research) with 48 credit points in Philosophy. The Honours year consists of writing a research thesis under supervision and two seminar courses.

52.4050 Combined Philosophy Honours (Research)
Prerequisite: For Combined Honours (Research) the requirement is normally 6 or 12 points at Level 1, plus 24 points at Upper Level (although this may be varied in consultation with the other School involved), completed with good overall Credit record and with indications of ability at Distinction level or better.
For both Honours programs, students may be permitted to count up to 6 points offered outside the School, where these are relevant to the program.

Students contemplating Honours are urged to seek advice from the School on their program early in their course.

Philosophy of Science

The Philosophy of Science program is designed to provide a coherent sequence of subjects for students who wish to prepare themselves for undertaking advanced study within the areas of logic, methodology and philosophy of science, or who merely wish to deepen their comprehension of the subject matter of a major in another field. The program leads towards a core subject, Advanced Philosophy of Science, in the third year. While a second major may be taken in any discipline available, the program is designed in such a way that students can pursue a second major in either Philosophy or Science and Technology Studies.

A major sequence is made up of not less than 36 credit points. Students should note, however, that they may not 'double-count' subjects towards a second major and they must satisfy general Faculty regulations. Students must also meet certain prerequisite requirements within the program. While the program given below is to be taken as normative, variations may be approved by the Co-ordinator. In particular, students otherwise deemed suitably prepared may be permitted to enter the program in second year, without being required to complete the usual first-year subject, provided they complete either 62.202U The Scientific Theory, or 52.2140 Scientific Method.

Suitably qualified students may proceed from the program to a fourth-year honours program in Philosophy or in Science and Technology Studies, or to a joint-honours program in the Schools of Philosophy and Science and Technology Studies. For details, see the school entries under Subject Descriptions.

Political Science

The School of Political Science is concerned with the study of political ideas, institutions and activity. These areas of study are investigated in different ways - historically, logically, empirically and morally. Political Science seeks to encourage a fuller understanding of the problems and processes of political systems in different times and places. To achieve this, emphasis is placed not only upon the study of institutions, but also upon the analysis of a range of theories. These theories may equally underlie and reinforce, or oppose and seek to change, existing structures.

Major Sequence

Any student who wishes to pursue a major sequence in Political Science must obtain at least 12 Level I and at least 24 Upper Level credit points in Political Science subjects.

Part Time (Evening) Study

The School of Political Science has organised its subjects to permit students to undertake a Major through part-time study in the evenings (after 5 pm).

In 1990, 6 Level I credit points and one Upper Level subject worth 6 credit points will be available in the evenings in each session.

Students wishing to study in the evenings should be aware that their choice of subjects is, naturally, restricted.

Honours Entry

Any student seeking admission to Honours programs in Political Science must obtain a minimum of 54 credit points in Political Science subjects. This total must include 12 Level I credit points and at least 12 credit points from Upper Level subjects entry to which is governed by the prerequisite of Credit or better performance at Level I. A minimum cumulative average at Credit level is required for all Political Science Upper Level subjects taken.

Level I

The following are Level I subjects, with credit points as nominated. Normally students may take only one Level I subject in each session.

Ancillary Subjects
Students interested in further study of politics should be aware that there are subjects offered by other Schools in the Faculty on political matters. However such subjects cannot be counted towards a major in Political Science; but up to 6 credit points may, in special circumstances, be counted towards Honours prerequisites, with the permission of the Head of School.

Psychology
Modern psychology is both a basic discipline and a field of professional practice. As a science, psychology is concerned with the study of both the more complex forms of behaviour, and associated mental processes. It seeks to understand the basic psychological processes such as learning, memory, perception and motivation; the biological basis of behaviour; the development and decline of behavioural capacities from infancy to old age: individual differences in behaviour; social influences on behaviour; and the collective behaviour of social groups. In addition, disorders of behaviour form an important part of the subject matter of psychology.

In the Bachelor of Arts degree course psychology may be taken as a major sequence and as an Honours program.

Students who wish to obtain qualifications that will allow them to practise psychology need to complete the four-year Honours program in Psychology. The present minimum qualifications for membership of the Australian Psychological Society (the professional body of Australian psychologists) are a degree (with a major in Psychology) and a fourth year of study of psychology, followed either by further graduate study or two years of supervised experience in some practical field of psychology.

Russian Studies

The Department of Russian Studies offers a range of subjects designed to develop an informed understanding of the world's largest country, the Soviet Union, through the study of Russian language, literature, civilisation and history.
Russian language subjects cater both for complete beginners and also for advanced speakers of Russian.

Although language study is required for a major sequence in Russian Studies, several of the Upper Level subjects require no knowledge of the Russian language and can be taken by students from other schools interested in learning about Russian and Soviet literature, society and history.

Apart from its own major sequences, the Department of Russian Studies, in cooperation with other units in the Arts Faculty, offers subjects which can be counted towards a major sequence in Soviet Studies. These major sequences are listed later in this handbook.

Science and Technology Studies

Subjects offered in the School have three broad aims: to examine, from both historical and philosophical perspectives, the nature of scientific knowledge and method, and the dynamics of scientific change; to acquaint students with the relationship between science and general cultural and intellectual development; and to place science and technology in their social context.

At Level I there are four subjects designed to provide a general introduction to S&T Studies. Any two of these Level I subjects may be counted towards the BA or the BSocSc degree. At Upper Level a wide range of subjects may be taken. Some are of general interest and serve to complement the offerings of other schools. Others are designed for students interested primarily in the history and social relations of the sciences and the principles of the philosophy and methodology of science. The prerequisite for most Upper Level S&T subjects is the completion of Arts or other approved subjects carrying at least 24 credit points.

Major Sequence

At least 36 credit points in S&T subjects of which no more than 12 credit points may be from Level I subjects. By permission of the Head of the School, certain Upper Level subjects in other Schools to the value of 6 credit points may be substituted for S&T subjects.

While S&T subjects may be combined for a major sequence in a variety of ways, they generally fall into two main areas, concerned on the one hand with the History and Philosophy of Science, and on the other hand with Social Studies of Science and Technology. Some individual subjects, however, offer significant coverage of both areas and fit naturally into either one. Students who wish to concentrate their major in the History and Philosophy of Science or in Social Studies of Science and Technology may use the following list as a guide to recommended groupings of S&T subjects in these two areas.

A. History and Philosophy of Science

1. Level I subjects

2. Upper Level subjects (Intermediate)
   - 62.201U, 62.202U, 62.207U,

Philosophy of Science

For information on the interdisciplinary Philosophy of Science Program, taught in association with the School of Philosophy, see the relevant entry in Subject Descriptions.

Scientia

The Scientia Society gives students enrolled in S&T subjects an opportunity to meet one another informally, to discuss their interests in Science and Technology Studies, to hear visiting speakers and to enjoy a number of social events throughout the year. In addition, as a student organisation within the School, Scientia provides a means for undergraduates and postgraduates to express their views on matters of School policy and planning. Notices of Scientia activities are posted on a bulletin board near the School office (Morven Brown Building, Room 241) and all students enrolled in S&T subjects are welcome to attend.

Major Sequence A, which requires no study of the language, must be taken together with a School-based major sequence; students who wish to specialise in the area are advised to combine it with a major sequence in Russian Studies. Spanish and Latin American Studies

Subjects in Spanish and Latin American Studies are available in language, literature, history and linguistics. Major sequences may be followed in language and literature and/or history. In the case of language, entry to one of three streams depends on whether a student has no knowledge, some knowledge or an advanced knowledge of the Spanish language. Intensive oral and written language work is an essential element for the elementary and intermediate streams and classes for these, as for the advanced stream, are conducted wherever possible in Spanish. A major in Spanish and Latin American history may be completed with no knowledge of Spanish but a reading knowledge of the language is a prerequisite for entry to the Honours year.

Honours Entry

Students complete the normal major sequence prescribed for the award of the BA degree as well as:

9 additional Upper Level credit points in literature (65.307A - 65.345A) or history (including 65.2401) completed at Credit Level or better

The Hispania Society

All students in the School of Spanish and Latin American Studies (SLAS) are automatically members of the Hispania Society and membership is free. The Society is organised and run by the students of SLAS. All years are represented on the executive committee, which is elected at the Annual General Meeting at the beginning of each academic year.

Room 218 of the Arts building is open as a Common Room to the students of the School and is used as the headquarters of the Society. Here students can practise Spanish conversation with native speakers or with other students. Notices about Hispania's activities are posted in the Common Room and on noticeboards around the Arts building.

Events last year included wine and cheese evenings, dinners at Spanish restaurants and visits to Spanish films.

Beginning in 1989, there are changes to the subject numbers and credit point values of many Upper Level subjects in language, literature and linguistics. In order to ensure correct enrolment, students who began study in the School of Spanish and Latin American Studies before 1989 should consult the handbook provided by the School.

Theatre Studies courses offered within the Faculty of Arts are not primarily intended to equip a student for the profession of theatre.

The School of Theatre Studies is therefore concerned with the history and evaluation of the theatre arts including film and television. Practical work is undertaken in the School, not in order that students may achieve proficiency as actors or directors, but in order that they may acquire a fuller understanding of the theatre.

Major Sequence

This will consist of no less than 39 credit points and must include 57.401, 57.123, 57.128 and 57.407. Students are advised that with the permission of the School they may credit (one and only) one of the following subjects towards a major in Theatre Studies:

- 64.2108 Theatre for Children and Young People: An Introduction
- 64.2200 The Theatre of Bertolt Brecht
- 64.2201 German Drama Since 1945
- 61.100 Social and Dramatic Theory in Wagner's Music Dramas
- 61.110 Verdi and Opera in 19th Century Italy

Honours Entry

Qualifications for entry to Year 4 are determined by the School. The minimum requirements, however, are that students must have obtained 60 credit points in the School of Theatre Studies and have passed all subjects in the School together with their components at Credit level or better. The following subjects should be included in the program: 57.401, 57.123, 57.128, 57.407 and, for Honours (Research), 57.537.

Session 1

54.500G China: Politics of Economic Management

Adrian Chan

An examination of the various theories of economic development and the politics of decision-making in contemporary China, with emphasis on the post-Mao period.

51.503G Politics and Society in Indonesia

John Ingleson

The Indonesian response to colonial domination in the 20th century; the impact of the Japanese occupation; the Indonesian Revolution which culminated in the defeat of the Dutch in 1949; and the search for a new political order down to the ‘coup’ of 1965. Emphasis on the communists, the Muslims and the populists, and attempts to create political linkages between the elites and the masses. Analysis of those forces for and against and economic and social revolution in Indonesia and of the emergence of the military and a dominant force in Indonesian society.

51.539G Thailand and Cambodia: Development and Devastation

Ian Black

Why have two neighbouring countries of Southeast Asia, with many similarities of social tradition and frequently interlocking histories, undergone wholly divergent experiences in the 1970s and 1980s? Thailand has adopted a form of parliamentary democracy and is undergoing rapid capitalist development. Cambodia, after civil war and the ultra-radicalism of the Pol Pot regime, has still to establish a stable government and recover from economic devastation. This subject explores the historical factors behind the contrasting experiences.

51.538G Intellectual Trends and the Rise of Communism in China

K.K. Shum

This subject is a study of the main currents of Chinese political thought from late 19th century to early 20th century. Its purpose is to enhance one's understanding of modern China by examining the thinking of some prominent intellectual and political leaders whose ideas helped to shape China's destiny. From these analyses, it is envisaged that the reason why Mao Tse-tung Thought emerged as the most dynamic and popular ideology in the the pre-1949 period will become apparent.

51.504G Vietnam at War 1945–1975

Tom Cantwell

In 1945 France returned to Asia intent on re-establishing its colonial grip over Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. Part 1 of this subject examines the problems France experienced in attempting to eliminate the Viet Minh, a resistance group determined to achieve national re-unification. Part 2 focuses on South Vietnam's twenty year bid for survival under United States patronage. During the 1950's, Washington's pre-occupation with global strategic considerations, not South Vietnam's local needs, determined the development and training of the Republic of Vietnam's armed forces. The role of US allies in the recent Indochina conflict—especially Australia—will also be evaluated. The subject concludes by analysing the collapse of South Vietnam in 1975. Was it caused by faulty US and South Vietnamese policies, or North Vietnam's refusal to swerve from its original objective?

Master of Cognitive Science Degree

Co-ordinator
Dr Peter Slezak (Science and Technology Studies)

The graduate program in cognitive science at the University of New South Wales is the first of its kind in Australia and reflects the significant developments which have occurred in the range of disciplines which have coalesced into a coherent unified domain of inquiry under the heading 'Cognitive Science'.

Central to this new field are the converging and overlapping concerns of a variety of disciplines broadly dealing with mind, thought and knowledge. These include artificial intelligence, psychology, linguistics, neuroscience, logic and philosophy. This convergence has made it clear that the central issues and problems of cognition do not belong to any one of the disciplinary areas, but rather fall equally well into all of them and are fruitfully approached by a variety of methods.

Accordingly, the program is specifically designed to provide graduates with an exposure to the concepts and theories of related disciplines outside their particular specialty. It offers an integrated program of study through core subjects and electives in a broad range of areas including: artificial intelligence and expert systems, neuroscience, psychology, linguistics and philosophy.

The MCogSc degree course is offered at both the Pass and Honours levels. The Pass degree course (8155) comprises course work only and is available on a part-time basis over a period of two years or full-time over one year. Candidates who complete the course work requirements of the Pass degree course at a high standard may be eligible for transfer into the Honours program which requires the completion of a research project or thesis. The Honours degree course (2410) may be completed on a part-time basis over four years or full-time over two years.
Entry Requirements

Eligibility for admission to the degree program will normally be based on the candidate having completed an appropriate undergraduate degree in one of the following areas: psychology, philosophy, computer science, linguistics, neuroscience, history and philosophy of science.

For admission to the program an undergraduate degree at Honours level is normally required. However, where appropriate a suitable qualifying program of study may be prescribed for an applicant with a good pass degree.

Master of Music Degree

The character of the topics offered by the Department of Music within the course for the award of the degree of Master of Music at Pass level by course work (course 8245) incorporates interests developed by the Department over a number of years and is also intended to draw on specialist knowledge from visiting scholars. The course work will require a combination of exact technical data and a consistent awareness of music’s place in social and historical contexts. It is designed to stimulate the critical approach of graduate students to a number of important musical considerations while equipping them with an overview of music of considerable breadth. The program places special emphasis on opera and other genres in which music and drama are combined.

The course comprises eight units, which should normally be completed over four sessions of part-time study. The eight units consist of: 1. Research and Critical Method in Music: Year 1, 2 hour seminar plus related 2 hour tutorial per week. Year 2, weekly 2 hour seminar (2 units) 2. Research project (2 units) 3. Four electives each of 3 hours per week for 1 session (1 unit each).

The course is open to graduates who have majored in music or who have equivalent qualifications. Candidates may be required to undertake tutorials and tests in musicianship (particularly in the correlation of ear and eye for the purpose of effective study of primary sources).

Some research projects may require competence in reading at least one other language. In such cases, attainment of this competence will be a requirement of the course.

Electives

Four further units are made up from the study of subjects selected from the following list of electives (all of single unit value).

This involves analysing and transcribing from sound recordings from the early acoustic era, from the electric and long-playing recording decades and from the digital processes and compact discs of today. Directed towards how and why vocal changes have come about since the introduction of sound recording (approximately the last 100 years) and includes making music transcriptions from the recordings in an attempt to chronicle stylistic changes such as are found in vocal ornamentation, rhythmic interpretation, phrasing, use of portamento, voice production, choice of specific vocal register, type, etc. A detailed study of the vocal genres themselves and also of representative musical examples.

Operas of the late Baroque

By the early 18th century two of the greatest theatrical genres of the Baroque period had stabilised themselves as opera seria and opera buffa. Opera seria, in particular, was the genre which offered a composer the greatest opportunity for fame and for furthering a career and was the vehicle in which singers established international celebrity. The works of Alessandro Scarlatti, Hasse, Handel, Vinci, Leo, Porpora, Pergolesi, Vivaldi, Jommelli, Traetta, Galuppi and others offer a multitude of musical and dramatic comparisons and stylistic interrelationships, while Rameau is the greatest figure of the rival French tradition of lyric tragedy. This is also the period in which one librettist, Metastasio, provided composers of serious opera with a common literary source and a shared subject matter and technique of dramatic exposition such as was available in no other period.

French Opera from the Franco-Prussian War to World War I

The disastrous outcome of the Franco-Prussian War helped generate a new attitude to French music and to opera: the growth of nationalistic feeling was accompanied, paradoxically, by an extraordinary allegiance to Wagnerian ideals in music drama. French composers looked for epic subjects in the legendary or medieval past of their country and for furthering a career and was the vehicle in which singers established international celebrity. The works of Bizet’s Carmen or most of the operas of Massenet, were sometimes held up as the antithesis of Wagner’s practice. Apart from Carmen and Debussy’s Pelléas et Mélisande, two very different masterpieces, the period is rich in operatic scores of outstanding interest by such composers as Fauré, Dukas, Ravel, Saint-Saëns, Chabrier, Chaussón, D’Indy, Delibes, Lalo, Franck, Reyer, Bruneau and Charpentier, with Massenet providing the leading example of a regular and successful professional dedication to opera.

Analytic Techniques

Topics include Schenker and his followers - principles of Schenkerian analysis and graphing techniques; recent developments in tonal analysis; pre-serial atonality, analysis of serial music; atonal music analysis.
