The Faculty of the College of Fine Arts is one of the nine dynamic faculties of the University of New South Wales. Studying at COFA is characterised by: rigorous studio activities; high levels of scholarship and research; exposure to the best and most exciting art and design practice Sydney can offer; and participation in collaborative international arts projects. The College is unique amongst Australian Art and Design institutions in that it offers studio practice as well as theoretical, historical, educational and management training, scholarship and research across a wide range of visual arts and design disciplines including: painting, drawing, printmaking, sculpture, photography, film/video, installation and mixed media/performance, digital media, ceramics, textiles, jewellery, graphics/media, applied/object, environments/spatial. As well specialist degrees are offered in the areas of art and design education, art history and theory and arts administration. Also available are cross disciplinary courses that link other UNSW teaching and research expertise, for example arts administration with law or commerce. The teaching and research for both studio and theoretical activities is based on three principles: firstly, recognition of the increased cross disciplinarity of the visual arts and design; secondly, the bringing together of two often regarded opposite paradigms, the acquisition of traditional skills and the application of new technologies, to all aspects of teaching and learning; and thirdly, a College and a wider University experience that enhances student capacity to respond in a significant way to the personal, artistic, cultural and political issues of our time. Through the College’s structure of four professional schools: School of Art; School of Art Education; School of Art History and Theory; and School of Design Studies, a comprehensive range of undergraduate, postgraduate and research degrees are offered to an enrolment of approximately 1,700 students including 190 international students who come to us from more than 25 countries across Asia and the Pacific, Europe and the Americas. The College of Fine Arts has a commitment to international engagement of its staff and students. Consequently we have cooperative agreements with specialist art and design institutions throughout the world. Research activities of the College are supported by specialist centres and institutes. For example our International Drawing Research Institute places COFA staff and students in key roles alongside colleagues in Beijing and Glasgow. The College is proud of the of its full time, adjunct and visiting staff. It has excellent materials workshops and IT facilities. The extensive holdings of the Clement Semmler Library along with the internationally important Ivan Dougherty Gallery make a major contribution to the quality of being a student at COFA. As well, located in Paddington, the centre of Sydney’s gallery and museum district, the College broadly serves a large professional art and design community along with an interested general public. Importantly, COFA has the expertise, resources and experience to offer specialised yet flexible, cross-disciplinary degree programs in visual art and design at undergraduate, masters and doctoral levels. It gives me great pleasure to welcome you into the community of artists, designers, theorists and educators that make up the Faculty of the College of Fine Arts, UNSW.

The Clement Semmler Library

The Library was established in 1975 to support the information and research needs of the College. In January 2000 the Library merged with the UNSW Library in Kensington, retaining its location at the College of Fine Arts, Paddington. The merger was in response to changing patterns of information delivery, increasing availability of electronic resources and the cross campus needs of students and staff of the University.

The Library has a strong collection of books and serials on the visual arts, design, art and design education. It also has a substantial audiovisual collection which includes slides, video cassettes and interactive CD-ROMS. Access is via the UNSW Library's online catalogue and our online slide catalogue, Artscan.

Research is supported by a wide range of databases available online via the UNSW Library and by in-house indexes to Australian art material. Professional library staff are available to help students and staff make the best of these resources.

More information may be found on the Library's web page at http://www.cofa.unsw.edu.au/units/library/

Ivan Dougherty Gallery

UNSW Ivan Dougherty Gallery was established in 1977 by the Alexander Mackie College of Advanced Education at 200 Cumberland Street, The Rocks and was named after Major General Sir Ivan Dougherty, Chairman of the first College Council. It moved to its current premises in 1981.

UNSW Ivan Dougherty Gallery hours: Mon-Fri 10 – 5; Sat 1– 5 (closed public holidays).

Web address: www.cofa.unsw.edu.au/units/dg/

UNSW College of Fine Arts also houses the COFA Exhibition and Performance Spaces (COFA Gallery), primarily for the benefit of student work. It oversees a dynamic program of week-long exhibitions featuring the work of COFA students, students from international art institutions, recurrent events such as ARTEXPRESS and various student award exhibitions. This Gallery can also be booked by postgraduate students for assessment and project-based exhibitions.

COFA Gallery hours: Monday to Friday 10-5

Equal Opportunity in Education Policy Statement

Under the Federal Racial Discrimination Act (1975), Sex Discrimination Act (1984), and Disability Discrimination Act (1992) and the New South Wales Anti-Discrimination Act (1977), the University is required not to discriminate against students or prospective students on the grounds of age, disability, homosexuality...
University Commitment to Equal Opportunity in Education

As well as recognising its statutory obligations as listed, the University will eliminate discrimination on any other grounds which it deems to constitute disadvantage. The University is committed to providing a place to study free from harassment and discrimination, and one in which every student is encouraged to work towards her/his maximum potential. The University further commits itself to program design, curriculum content, classroom environment, assessment procedures and other aspects of campus life which will provide equality of educational opportunity to all students.

Special Admissions Schemes

The University will encourage the enrolment of students who belong to disadvantaged groups through programs such as the University Preparation Program and the ACCESS Scheme. Where members of disadvantaged groups are particularly under-represented in certain disciplines, the responsible faculties will actively encourage their enrolment.

Support of Disadvantaged Students

The University will provide support to assist the successful completion of studies by disadvantaged group members through such means as the Aboriginal Education Program and the Learning Centre. It will work towards the provision of other resources, such as access for students with impaired mobility, assistance to students with other disabilities, the provision of a parents' room on the upper campus, and increased assistance with English language and communication.

Program Content, Curriculum Design, Teaching and Assessment, and Printed Material

Schools and faculties will monitor program content (including titles), teaching methods, assessment procedures, written material (including study guides and handbook and Calendar entries) and audiovisual material to ensure that they are not discriminatory or offensive and that they encourage and facilitate full participation in education by disadvantaged people.

Equal Opportunity Adviser Scheme

The University will continue its Equal Opportunity Adviser Scheme for students who feel that they have been harassed or who consider they have been disadvantaged in their education by practices and procedures within the University.

Harassment Policy

The University is committed to ensuring freedom from harassment for all people working or studying within the institution. It will continue to take action, including disciplinary action, to ensure that freedom from harassment is achieved.

Health-related programs

Criminal record checks

The NSW Health Department has a policy that all students undertaking clinical placements, undergo a criminal record check prior to employment or placement in any capacity in the NSW Health System. This check will be conducted by the NSW Police Service and will be co-ordinated by the Department of Health.

Infectious diseases

Students required to complete clinical training in the NSW hospital system will be subject to various guidelines and procedures laid down for health workers by the NSW Department of Health relating to vaccination and infection control. An information sheet is available from your program officer and further details can be obtained from your Program Authority.

Education programs

Criminal record checks

It is a requirement that a check of police records be conducted for all teacher education students applying for an unsupervised internship placement in a New South Wales Government school.

Contact the Practicum Co-ordinator for further details.

Occupational Health and Safety

Risk Assessment

Students using, or planning to use, conventional materials in an unorthodox way, or unorthodox materials in their class work, projects, exhibitions and/or research are required to complete a Risk Assessment Sheet, available from the technical staff of each studio area. The Risk Assessment Sheet must be signed by the relevant academic staff member and lodged with the responsible technical officer.

"Unorthodox materials" will include materials, solvents, chemicals and paints not included in standard practice or tuition in the studio area. It will also include any human or animal body parts, fluids or products.

Assessment of risk should cover, but be not limited to:

- all materials planned for use
- locations for work and/or their display
- disposal of material used
- clean-up of location where the work is carried out or displayed.

Students should become familiar with the properties of materials planned for use by consulting the relevant Material Safety Data Sheets (MSDS) and technical staff.

The Students’ Association

All students of COFA are members of the Students’ Association. Students are elected as representatives on the SA Committee as well as on College and University Committees ensuring the student voice is heard and acted upon.

The SA is financed by a compulsory fee which is managed by the SA Committee made up of 10 students who are elected by their fellow students each year. Your fees go towards the cost associated with the running of the many facilities and services that directly benefit you as a member.

Facilities include the Campus Arts Store. The Kudos Gallery two common rooms; services include a grants and sponsorship scheme, studio residency program, free soup kitchens and bbq’s, social activities clubs and societies and support though the SA staff.
The SA support the Womens' Collective, Art Forum, Film Group (TVAS), sports clubs such as the inter art school soccer league and Environment group.

Part of the compulsory fee is automatically assigned to the MFAF, (Miscellaneous Fund Annual Fee) which is used to finance expenses generally of a capital nature relating to non-academic student spaces, facilities and insurance cover.

The SA has it's own website with up to date information on SA activities, employment, housing what's on and email access to all committee members.

Life membership and conscientious objection to compulsory fees will be considered if they fall within the SA guidelines.

General

1.1 It is the responsibility of the student to complete all requirements of the program in which that student is enrolled in order to qualify for the award.

1.2 It is the student's responsibility to be acquainted with the contents of official notices displayed from time to time on notice boards designated for this purpose.

Advanced Standing

2.1 Credit can be gained for relevant equivalent courses completed at another recognised institution within the previous ten years. The maximum Advanced Standing available is 50% of the program.

Attendance

3.1 Except where leave is granted:
   - students must attend all classes of courses in which they are enrolled; and
   - where absences in excess of 3 classes occur, students may be given a fail grade (UF).

Units of Credit

4.1 The University has introduced a university wide units of credit system for all courses offered to both undergraduate and postgraduate students. The system means that a course will have the same units of credit value irrespective of which faculty's program it is counting towards. Students are able to determine the value of courses taken from other faculties when planning their programs of study. The student load for a course is calculated by dividing the units of credit value of a course by the total units of credit required for that year of the program. Student load is used to determine both HECS and student fees. Students who take more than the standard load for that year of a program will pay more HECS.

Old course credit points have been replaced by new university units of credit. Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the units of credit values shown for all courses. However, if any inconsistencies between old and new course concern, students are advised to check with their faculty office for clarification before making course selections, based on the units of credit shown in this handbook, for study in 2001.

Computing Requirements

5.1 Advice is available from School Offices on the requirements for computing equipment and software for programs. Students undertaking computing studies in any program are responsible for ensuring that they have appropriate backups of their work. Work should not be left on College machines as its security cannot be guaranteed by the College. It should be noted that students who alter or delete another person's work may be committing a criminal offence.

Indebtedness to the University

6.1 A student becomes indebted to the University by non-payment of any fee or charge and by non return of any College items. A student who is indebted to the University and who fails to make a satisfactory settlement of the indebtedness upon receipt of due notice will be penalised.

6.2 Students who fail to pay charges and late charges levied by the University will not be permitted to attend classes, undertake assessments or be granted any course grades.

6.3 Students who fail to return material borrowed from the Library, by the due date, may be refused further borrowing privileges at the discretion of the College Librarian or delegate.

6.4 Students who fail to return on time materials borrowed from College Resource units may be refused further borrowing privileges, at the discretion of the Dean or delegate.

6.5 Students unable to return Library or other Resource items borrowed from the College are required to pay the cost of their replacement. The minimum charge per item will be determined by the College.

6.6 Students who fail to return any materials borrowed from the College, or who fail to satisfy any financial obligation to the University may incur one or more of the following penalties as determined by the Dean:
   (1) refusal of further borrowing privileges;
   (2) withdrawal of authority to attend classes;
   (3) withholding of session assessment results;
   (4) refusal of permission to enrol;
   (5) withholding of the testamur for an award.

Such penalty will remain in force until materials are returned, compensation made, or other such obligations satisfied.
Insurance Cover

7.1 Students should be aware that when borrowing equipment from the College facilities that an insurance excess of $5,000 applies. The borrower may be held liable for this amount if the equipment is lost, stolen or damaged. Students are advised to effect private insurance cover where possible.

It should also be noted that students' private property and work are not covered by the University's insurance policies.

Building Rules

8.1 Students are required to abide by the building closing times determined for the Campus. Opening and closing times will be determined by an authorised College Officer from time to time and will be shown on Official Notice boards. Building and other Campus premises or grounds are to be vacated at any time when required by an authorised officer of the College.

8.2 In the interests of safety and student welfare, persons under the age of 16 years are not permitted on Campus unless expressly authorised by the Dean.

8.3 In the interests of general comfort and safety, students, staff and visitors are required to obey the Campus rules regarding smoking, eating and drinking.

8.4 Students seeking to serve alcoholic drinks at social functions are required to have the prior permission of the Dean or delegate.

8.5 Animals are not permitted on any part of the Campus, except with the permission of an authorised College officer.

8.6 Students who fail to comply with these rules may be required to show cause why they should not lose their entitlement to membership and privileges of the College and, subsequently, may be subject to such penalty as may be determined by the Dean.

Traffic and Parking Rules

9.1 The College grounds are private property and the University reserves the right to regulate the entry of individuals and vehicles and their behaviour and operation within the grounds. Students may not bring vehicles onto College grounds unless they have the express permission of the Facilities Zone Manager and accept the College Traffic and Parking Rules and the penalties for the infringement of those rules.

9.2 Any vehicle brought onto the grounds is required to be driven, parked and managed in compliance with the College rules and in the observance of the directions of authorised University/College officers.

9.3 The College does not accept responsibility for any damage caused to vehicles while travelling, standing or parked in the grounds, nor for any damage to, or loss of, accessories and/or contents.

9.4 The bringing or driving of vehicles or cycles on paths, grassed areas, or elsewhere on the grounds, except for roadways and car parks, is prohibited except with the permission of an authorised University/College officer.

9.5 Where a breach of the Traffic and Parking Rules occurs, the following penalties will apply:

- for the first infringement or offence, an authorised officer will record the vehicle registration number and issue a written “first parking warning notice”;

- for the second and subsequent infringements or offences, an authorised officer will record the vehicle registration number, issue a “second parking warning notice” and attach a wheel clamp to the vehicle. The driver shall be required to pay a minimum fine of $50.

9.6 Students may appeal in writing to the Dean against imposition of any penalty for infringement of the Traffic and Parking Rules.

Failures

Students who fail an Introductory Study in Session 1 will progress to Session 2 in the following manner:

(a) Where a core course is offered in only one session students who fail will be required to repeat that course in the first available session;

(b) Students may take additional elective courses in the following session to maintain Units of Credit but will not be permitted to enrol in a major strand where the student has outstanding/failed prerequisites.

Progression Rules

Where a student wishes to change their major study at the end of Session 2 approval will be given provided that:

(a) The student would have otherwise been eligible under the criteria set for the allocation of students to major disciplines;

(b) There are places available in the discipline area nominated;

(c) The student has satisfactorily completed another unit one major and a studio elective course in the discipline area of the new choice, at distinction level or above;

The opportunity exists within the course for students to focus on any of these roles.

Practical field experience in educational settings include extensive school and community based teaching experiences and activities including a full session Teaching Internship.

It is possible to complete the Bachelor of Art Education with honours. Students may apply for entry into the honours program at the beginning of session 5, though later year entry can be made under special circumstances. Students must have a fail free record and a distinction average in 40 units of credit in Core Studies in Art Education in sessions 3, 4, 5 and 6. The honours program consists of additional coursework in sessions 6, 7 and 8, however students are exempt from 6 units of credit in Art Education: 14 units of credit in Visual Arts.

4808 Bachelor of Design Bachelor of Art Education

The Bachelor of Design Bachelor of Art Education is a degree program for students wishing to enter both the design and teaching professions. Students participate in design education teaching practicums and the design industry experience program.

This degree will provide an education to students who wish to enter design education or a range of different areas of the design profession, for example: graphic design, media design, film, television production and post-production, illustration, publications, interior, theatre, exhibitions, display, festivals, furnishings, ceramics, textiles, jewellery and product design.

The program incorporates flexibility in its structure in order that students may develop their individual potential as future designers and design educators. They may function essentially as a design and technology and applied studies teacher in secondary schools, primary schools, community organisations, museums and galleries and as a curriculum development officer. The opportunity exists within the program for students to focus on any of these roles. Practical field experience in educational settings include extensive school and community based teaching experiences and activities including a full session Teaching Internship.

It is possible to complete the Bachelor of Design Bachelor of Art Education with honours. Students may apply for entry into the honours program at the beginning of session 7, though later year entry can be made under special circumstances.

Program Structure

Bachelor of Art Education

Program Structure
The Bachelor of Art Education comprises an art education double major, courses in art and design, including art history and theory, that may be taken as a major or minor, electives and General Education courses.

The Foundation Year
All students complete foundation courses in art education (including school field experiences), the fine arts and art history and theory. These courses provide a core, foundational experience. In subsequent years students develop plans emphasising their interests in the practices of fine arts and design, contextualised through courses in their art education major including field experiences.

Art Education
Courses in art education provide students with investigations and applications of the theoretical and practical knowledge of the art and design educator. These compulsory courses include field experiences in a range of educational and community contexts and the extended practice teaching internship.

Art Education Honours
The Bachelor of Art Education may be completed with Honours.

Fine Arts
Courses in the fine arts include: Ceramics or Drawing or Jewellery or Painting or Photomedia or Printmedia or Sculpture or Textiles or Time Based Art. Students may plan sequences of courses in the fine arts as a major (at least 36 units of credit) or a minor (at least 18 units of credit). In completing a fine arts major students may choose courses offered as electives, workshops and the core in the Bachelor of Fine Arts (see pages 16-21).

Art History and Theory
Students may elect individual courses in art history and theory. A minor in art history and theory comprises a planned sequence of courses of at least 18 units of credit.

Electives
Electives allow students to plan their studies to specific needs, interests and career aspirations. Students are encouraged to take at least one art education elective. Some students may choose electives to focus and deepen their studies, others will choose electives across a broad range of art, art education, design, art history and theory courses. Electives may be taken as courses offered by other faculties of the university. Further information about electives can be found on pages 59-73.

General Education
Students are required as part of their studies to complete 12 units of credit in General Education courses. General Education contributes to the broad educational objectives of university study and are usually taken at the Kensington campus.

Fine Arts Honours
Students who complete a fine arts major with a sequence of 50 units of credit and a distinction average in 40 units may apply for the Bachelor of Fine Arts (Honours) completed as a fifth year of study (see page 21).

Program Rules
If students are unsure of their program structure and requirements they should contact the Student Centre in the Faculty Office.

SAED2401
Educational Psychology
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
An introduction to the nature and objectives of educational psychology from a cognitive, social and ecological perspective. The course covers the nature of learning, the processes involved in social cognition, the processes involved in motivation, the theories of group processes in a school. Theories are applied through an analysis of the match between the teacher, the material and the student, the psychology from a cognitive, social and ecological perspective. The Educational Psychology Teacher Development 2 classrooms, principles of discipline and those aspects of planning and implementing a program in a positive educational environment.

SAED2402
Teacher Development 2
Staff Contact: School Office

Prerequisite/s: SAED1402
Teacher Development 2 is formulated as three inquiries. Firstly, studies of teaching including methods for observation based studies of teaching, in particular transcript writing, are introduced. The second area of content utilises the frames in an examination of four distinct conceptualizations of knowledge, models for teaching and classroom management. Classroom Management aspires to developing strategies for consistency and preventing problems rather than defaulting to reaction and erratic or inconsistent responses to student or group behaviour. Classroom Management, properly handled, minimises disciplinary action and contributes to a positive learning environment. Finally, Kounin’s research showing how teacher behaviour can be investigated and described is examined.

UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2
Special Education extends and develops the prospective teachers experiences, attitudes and understandings of students with special and/or high support needs in the secondary school. The course, following a non-categorical approach, includes consideration of the psychology and special educational needs of students with mild and moderate intellectual disabilities and students with physical disabilities. It also includes the diagnosis and description of physical and learning disabilities and the role of and possibilities for art and design education in providing positive, supportive and inclusive educational choices and experiences for all students.

SAED2406
The Sociology of Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course provides an introduction to, and overview of, the interaction between society and the individual, and between the socialising groups which shape behaviour. Current issues and problems will provide a focus for analysis and projecting strategies for effective pupil learning. Participation in this course should develop attitudes and skills, so that the student is able: to appraise and appreciate significant developments and theoretical contributions in the area of social research, to identify and analyse the nature of group processes operating in classrooms and society; to identify probable individual reactions to a wide range of social situations; to analyse the school as a social system in interaction with other social systems in the community; to employ knowledge of social processes for greater teacher effectiveness.

SAED2401
Practice Teaching Year 2
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC3 HPW3 S1 S2
Practice Teaching 2 is the second ten day in-school experience taken after completion of SAED 2402 Teacher Development 2. During these two weeks, students work in a different school setting associated with an area of visual arts practice different from that visited in SAED 1491 Practice Teaching 1, and may include a regional or country location. Students apply content using the frames as four distinct knowledges of and models for teaching. With increased confidence students plan, prepare and implement classes for years 7 - 10 visual arts and design, and working with their cooperating teacher develop strategies to evaluate and improve teaching practice.

Year Three

Core Courses in Art Education

SAED3402
Teacher Development 3
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
Prerequisite/s: SAED2402
In SAED 3402 Teacher Development 3 students work in small teaching groups and in consultation with the lecturer take full responsibility for planning and implementing a visual arts and design program consistent with the syllabus and its interpretation in a selected secondary school. Students develop their art educational practice and apply methods of clinical supervision to understand and improve their teaching knowledge and practice with a particular focus on classroom management.

SAED3403
Issues in Contemporary Design Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
“Issues in Contemporary Design Education” comprises an analysis and interpretation of the principal discourses shaping design education. This course examines the emergent possibilities for design education in the secondary school subject of visual arts and Key Learning Area Technology and Applied Studies. It will facilitate the negotiation of two at times distinct fields and domains of knowledge. The fine arts and design within educational contexts.

Prerequisite/s: Available in BDes/BArtEd - approved by Exec 16/6/99.
approved by Faculty - 28/7/99.

SAED3404
Theories and Practices of Art History in Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course aims to present students with a range of theories of art history and develop student ability to explore and apply art historical methodologies to the educational conditions of setting, student and curriculum. Students will consider the educational significance of concepts of the historical event, the interpretation of art works in cultural and historical contexts, and the formation of spatiotemporal frames of reference among art works.

SAED3407
Curriculum Studies in Art Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course introduces and develops interpretative and critical perspectives in curriculum, with particular reference to contemporary art and design curriculum and theory and practice. Contributions to the field by significant educators and the principal theoretical positions in curriculum are examined. These orientations or ideologies are informed by the wider theoretical and philosophical contexts and related to art and design educational curriculum practice. Political, historical and institutional structures shaping curriculum contexts in visual arts and design with an emphasis on local contexts are investigated. The struggles and dilemmas manifested in the contested values of and challenges to contemporary curriculum discourse are considered.

SAED3491 Practice Teaching Year 3

Staff Contact: School Office

UOC3 HPW0 S1 S2

Practice Teaching 3 is a ten day in-school experience taken after completion of SAED 3402 Teacher Development 3. Students apply for placement in another secondary school that provides new and different opportunities to experience various educational cultures and practices. Students plan, prepare and implement, with increasing sophistication and autonomy, classes for years 7 - 12 visual arts and design.

Core Courses in Art Education

SAED4003 Theory of Aesthetics in Art Education

Staff Contact: School Office

UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2

Excluded: SDES2177, COFA7061

This course aims to provide students with opportunities to examine aesthetics and art theory as these relate to the teaching of art, to increase their critical awareness, to become more aware of their own philosophy of art education and the implications of this for their teaching. Through a combination of lectures and seminars the subject will include the historic ideas and aims of aesthetic education. Curriculum design and validation in aesthetic education will be an important component.

SAED4006 Philosophical Issues in Education

Staff Contact: School Office

UOC6 HPW3 S2

The aim of this course is to introduce students to contemporary philosophical theories applied to the field of education. Using the critical theories of society put forward by Jurgen Habermas students will analyse knowledge and human interests in order to critically understand a range of significant educational issues in terms of their technical, practical and emancipatory consequences.

SAED4491 Extended Practice Teaching

Staff Contact: School Office

UOC24 HPW0 S1 S2

Prerequisites: SAED1491, SAED2491, SAED3491, SAED2401, SAED3402, SAED4052

During the Extended Practice Teaching Internship students make a full time teaching commitment in a secondary school. Students are required to take responsibility for several classes, including preparation of lessons and associated teaching materials, complete administration and record keeping as required by the school, including school reports, participate fully in the professional obligations of the school such as sporting and co-curricular activities, staff meetings, and professional development days and community consultations. Students plan, implement, evaluate and document a curriculum of ten weeks duration for a selected class. Clinical supervision methods, applied at five weekly intervals, in consultation with their co-operating teacher, identify and address their developing teaching practice. The Extended Practice Teaching experience requires a synthesis and application of theoretical and practical understandings introduced and examined throughout the course. The Internship is supervised and assessed by co-operating teachers and the School of Art Education Practicum Coordinator. Students may apply for a variation of program that will entail a placement for the final two to four weeks of the Extended Practice Teaching Internship in a museum or community setting. These placements are competitive and subject to the completion of the related Art Education Elective (see page xx) and the approval of the Head of School. Students should consult the School of Art Education Practicum Coordinator for further advice.

SAED4051 Practices of Research in Art, Design and Education

Staff Contact: School Office

UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2

Clifford Geertz says that those who wish to understand what a science is should look not, in the first instance, to its theories or its findings but to what the practitioners of it do. Research is broadly conceived in this subject as a pattern of practices in which the major agencies which contribute to the research process are perceived as a mutually dependent relation. This course aims to introduce students to the agencies of investigative practice in the humanities and social sciences and to an understanding of their role in the validation, analysis and interpretation of content within the domains of art, design and education. While practices of research in art, design and education vary widely in their instrumental and political significance it is nevertheless the goal of this subject to enable students, through the analysis of exemplars of research, to rehearse these practices in a manner consistent with an apprenticeship model of learning. In particular students will be able to integrate and apply systematically key agencies of research practice in art, design and education including - the role of explanatory theory, the functional stance of the researcher, the constraints imposed by art as the object of investigation, the use of research in art, design and education which form the basis for the conception of visual arts education as a distinctive field. Theoretical frameworks in art education will be explained as a largely discontinuous collection of histories. These histories are united by ruling paradigms many originating outside of the field in the human sciences, and in the practices of the visual arts. Examples include psychoanalytical approaches to creativity and anthropological and socio-cultural studies, and cognitive theories.

SAED4052 Theoretical Frameworks in Art and Design Education

Staff Contact: School Office

UOC6 HPW3 S1

This course aims to introduce students to the theoretical frameworks which form the basis for the conception of visual arts education as a distinctive field. Examples include psychoanalytical approaches to creativity and anthropological and socio-cultural studies, and cognitive theories.

SAED4053 Curriculum in Art, Design and Education

Staff Contact: School Office

UOC6 HPW3 S2

This course will provide students with modernist and post-modernist theoretical frameworks of curriculum evaluation and critique. Particular reference will be made to the critical methodologies of Habermas and the genealogical archeology of Foucault as appropriate to an interpretation of the visual arts in education.

SAED4055 Honours Research Project in Art and Design Education

Studies

Staff Contact: School Office

UOC8 HPW0 S1 S2

This course enables students to prepare and complete an Art Education research project in a chosen area of specialisation. Content includes a review of major research paradigms including:
historical, descriptive, experimental and philosophical methodologies. Students will complete a research project submitting a report which identifies an issue or problem of art educational significance and demonstrates understanding and appropriate application of selected methodologies to the investigation of the chosen problem, and is presented in the form of a publishable paper of 5500-7500 words in length.

SAED4056
Theory of Knowing in Art, Design and Education
Staff Contact: Associate Professor Neil Brown
UOC6 HPW3 S1 or S2
This course aims to further students understanding of the cognitive foundation of the visual arts. It provides a general introduction to epistemology including concepts such as belief, truth, perception and representation. Reference will be drawn to recent concepts in metaphysics including, theory of mind, ontology and self. The course goes on to repose these concepts within the assumptions of a variety of philosophical perspectives. Students will be required to examine a range of these concepts and perspectives for their relevance to the teaching of art.

SAED4057
Art and Design History in Education
Staff Contact: Dr Penny McKeon
UOC6 HPW3
This course introduces a range of contemporary theories of art and design history. Students will examine and evaluate art-history methodologies and apply them to educational settings within the context of general education. The textual, interpretive and revisionist character of the historical act are experienced, analysed and understood as a set of interpretive and explanatory practices which enable identification and revision of historical narratives.

Honours
Program Structure

The Bachelor of Design Bachelor of Art Education comprises an art and design education double major, courses in design, including design history, theory and aesthetics, electives and General Education courses.

The Foundation Year
All students complete foundation courses in art and design education (including school field experiences), design studio and related courses, design history, theory and aesthetics. These course provide a core, foundational experience. In subsequent years students develop plans emphasising their interests in design, contextualised through courses in their art education double major including field experiences and the design industry experience program.

Art and Design Education
Courses in art and design education provide students with investigations and applications of the theoretical and practical knowledges of the art and design educator. These compulsory courses include field experiences in a range of educational and community contexts and the extended practice teaching internship.

Bachelor of Design Bachelor of Art Education Honours
The Bachelor of Design Bachelor of Art Education may be completed with Honours.

Design
Courses in design include; Applied, Ceramics, Environments, Graphics, Jewellery and Textiles. Students may plan sequences of courses in design as a major (at least 36 units) or a minor (at least 18 units). In completing a design major students choose courses offered as Design Studios with related Design and Computer courses.

Design History, Theory and Aesthetics
Students complete 12 units of in design history, theory and aesthetics. Additional courses in design history, theory and aesthetics may be chosen as a design history, theory and aesthetics minor, comprising at least 18 units of credit.

Electives
Electives allow students to plan their studies to specific needs, interests and career aspirations. Students are encouraged to take at least one art education elective. Some students may choose electives to focus and deepen their studies, others will choose electives across a broad range of art, art education, design, art history and theory courses. Electives may be taken as courses offered by other Faculties of the university.

General Education
Students are required as part of their studies to complete 6 units of credit in General Education courses. General Education contributes to the broad educational objectives of university study, and are normally taken at the Kensington campus.

The Program

The Bachelor of Design is a 4 year degree with the opportunity to undertake honours study in the fourth year. This program provides an education to students who wish to enter a range of different areas of the design profession, for example: graphic design, media design, film, television production and post-production, illustration, publications, interiors, theatre, exhibitions, display, festivals and furnishings, ceramics, textiles, jewellery and product design.

In Year 1 students will be involved in a comprehensive and intensive range of 2D, 3D and 4D (or time based) experiences as well as the acquisition of historical, theoretical and technological skills and understandings. These include studying human individuals, society, the environment, and the application of computer skills to design.

In Years 2 and 3 students will extend their work on projects with the opportunity to integrate the following: graphics/media design, applied/object design, environments/spatial design, ceramics design, textiles design and jewellery design. Historical, theoretical and technological contexts will also be studied.

In Year 4 students' studio projects are designed to parallel professional practice while integrating theoretical design studies and a period of work experience leading into a graduation project/exhibition.

This program recognises the College of Fine Arts' particular strengths, resources and requirements to provide an undergraduate program which places emphasis on an integrated approach rather than on narrow vocational specialisations. These strengths are its technology and applied arts base and its relationship with industry, its courses in visual arts, art education and art theory, and the ability to offer design from a creative and cross disciplinary base.

Core Courses

Year One

SAHT1301
Design History, Theory and Aesthetics 1 - Early Modern Period to Postmodernism
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4  HPW2
This course provides an overview of design history from the early modern period through to Postmodernism. The theories and strategies employed by industrialists, designers, philosophers and artist/designers will be explored. An understanding of elements and principles of design, and the role that design plays in the evolution of market systems along with its emergence as a powerful tool for national and cultural identity, will be investigated. Key moments in design history - designers, movements, innovations etc. - are considered against the backdrop of industrialisation, technological transformations, colonisation and international conflicts. The theories, practices, aesthetics, cultural and economic considerations employed by 20th Century designers will be explored both from a formal elements and principles base and a socio-political standpoint. Within these parameters 20th Century design movements, styles, manufacturers and retailing will be considered to assist students to understand the designer's role in society as well as to provide a context for the analysis of their designs.

SART1333
Drawing: Object, Life and Landscape
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4  HPW3  S1  S2
This course will introduce students to the techniques for visually representing objects, figures and landscapes as well as using abstract concepts. The use of sketching will be encouraged to "visually think" and communication, using a variety of methods, techniques, tools and materials, and strategies. Students will examine the human form, landscape and objects in terms of structure, proportion, movement, surface qualities and associated ideas.

SDES1101
Design Studio 1A - Elements and Principles of Design
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW3  S1
In this course students are introduced to the elements and principles of design. Acquisition of a design vocabulary will be encouraged through an analysis of definitions of design, the designer, conceptualisation and abstraction within a design context. The course will require students to begin developing a visual language for use in communicating their design intentions. Examples will clarify key points from a wide range of design practices and fields. Students will undertake and complete exercises and projects using two-dimensional and three-dimensional responses. The philosophy of integrated and multi-disciplinary design on which the Bachelor of Design is founded, is emphasised throughout this early stage of the program.

Courses

General Education

Students are required as part of their studies, to complete 12 units of credit in General Education courses or their equivalent. General Education must be undertaken in courses taught by faculties of the University, other than the College of Fine Arts.

Elective Courses

Students are required to undertake 4 elective courses (refer to schema on Structure of the Bachelor of Design on page 34). These elective courses are chosen from the selection listed under the section Elective Courses for Undergraduate Programs at the end of the undergraduate program section.

- Studio electives in Visual Arts
- Studio workshops in Visual Arts
- Design Studies workshops and electives
- History and Theory electives
- Art Education electives
This course extends the study of fundamental design principles. The relationship between two-dimensional and three-dimensional representation of form and space is examined through a series of process exercises and projects. Students are introduced to concepts of constructing and de-constructing form as well as relationships between form and function. The studies of Design Studio 1A are progressed to analyse designed objects, environments and graphics as well as the processes of designers and their practice. Students are required to respond to the projects contained within this course using both two-dimensional and three-dimensional techniques to communicate their creativity and resolutions. Further understanding of the design process is encouraged by placing emphasis on extended development of concepts as well as methods and techniques for presenting design solutions.

The aim of this course is to introduce and develop understandings about the functioning human being at both the physical and cognitive levels. The relationship between human physiology and psychology is examined in the context of the designed environment and its implications for questions of ergonomics. The course will refer to the physiology and neurology of sensation, the psychology of perception, ergonomics and anthropometrics as knowledge domains pertinent to designing the optimum interface between humans and their environment.

The aim of this course is to introduce and develop understandings about patterns of interaction between design processes and natural and manufactured systems. The relationship between nature, human society, ethical values and design are examined in the context of pressures on resources and the implications for the quality of life. The course will refer to ecology, ethics, value systems, social systems, political systems and legal systems so that students understand some of the dynamics of the social and environmental contexts for design as well as the foundations of responsible design practice.

This course aims to emphasise the development of a keen and critical awareness in students of the principles of verbal and visual presentation technique within the Design context. The questions of content and application are focussed towards the intended development of the individual's visual language and presentation technique.

This course introduces the student to the basic working knowledge of the computer and its programs as well as giving the student an informative overview of the system used by the College of Fine Arts. The student will also be given an introduction to the history of computing and computer technology as well as the application of computers in design for CAD and documentation.

This course introduces students to basic materials, equipment and techniques involved in modelmaking. The knowledge and understanding derived from these initial investigations is applied to a range of exercises and projects. The projects include fabricating and forming materials to appropriately and clearly articulate design intent. The relevance of three-dimensional models within the design process is emphasised by understanding the place of models as tools of: Exploration, Communication, Visualisation and Presentation. This course aims to equip students with necessary knowledge and skills to apply to concepts within the design studio setting.

This course examines the principles of two dimensional design, creatively explored through typographic and print-based projects. It introduces the history and fundamentals of typography, principles of layout and composition, and the variety of graphic applications in contemporary contexts. Students will be encouraged to develop perceptual awareness, analytical and technical skills in their understanding and approach to typography and composition in graphics/media design.

This course will introduce students to the communication of ideas through measured drawing. Students will be introduced to topics by means of exercises in plane geometry, descriptive geometry and orthographic projections. Exercises will also include those to develop the ability to visualise and record forms and spaces in measured drawings.

This course extends students knowledge in four basic areas of design and computers. These areas are: image acquisition and manipulation, shape manipulation, introduction to CAD concepts and introduction to multimedia authoring. This course will explore rapidly developing tool sets. Identify and familiarise students with basic user interface metaphors, utilised by most software packages while placing software applications commonly seen in industry and studio work flows, into context.

This course reflects upon histories, theories and practices in the realm of design in order to provide an analytical framework for understanding present and future design from the designer's viewpoint. Within this context a variety of themes and issues will be analysed in relation to: the 'designer' product, the designer's role in society, designer education, the designer and mass production and consumption. This course through further reflection on historical and contemporary theories and practices in design, will address such specific issues as packaging, marketing and retailing of designed products as well as aspects of consumer psychology. The communication qualities inherent in design products, graphics and environments will be considered in some depth.

The Program

The Bachelor of Art Theory offers an intensive study of the visual arts, design and culture. The degree program encourages students to take full advantage of its location within one of Australia’s largest art and design schools and a leading university. The degree offers students in-depth study of art and/or design history and theory and prepares students for research careers or professional employment in the arts or design industries. Examples of likely careers include art administration, design management, curatorship, art and design criticism and writing, public programming and policy formation, and project officers.

Graduates from the Bachelor of Art Theory will have the ability to make informed critical judgements about various forms of visual culture, with a particular emphasis on understanding the visual arts and design and the historical-theoretical interpretation of images and objects. Graduates will have benefited from the opportunity to combine theoretical and historical studies with studio-based subjects in art, craft and design and to draw on a wide range of electives offered within the University. They will have gained an understanding of and experience in the arts and design industries.

Program Structure

The Bachelor of Art Theory comprises a theory major and a co-major, electives and General Education courses.

Students take a total of 48 units of credit per year; the program totals 144 units. The duration of the program is three years full-time equivalent.

Common Introduction

Students take common introductory theory courses in the first year, including two courses taken with students in the Bachelor of Fine Arts, the Bachelor of Art Education and the Bachelor of Design/Bachelor of Art Education.

Theory Major

Students take courses in the art and design theory major to gain an understanding of the major methodological tools and concerns in Art and Design History. These courses provide a framework for other studies in the degree.

Co-majors

In addition, students take a co-major, normally a sequence of study in Art and/or Design contexts. Students may take a different co-major, subject to the approval of the relevant course authorities.

Art Contexts

Courses explore the institutional contexts in which art is exhibited, catalogued, collected, interpreted, evaluated and promoted. Although careers within the arts-related professions frequently require further study, these subjects provide 'hands-on' experience in writing and publishing, curating, and the avenues for funding, culminating in the Industry Placement.

Design Contexts

Includes practical courses, such as Design Studio, Design and Computers, and Design Management as well as courses which explore the workings of the design industry and provide 'hands-on' experience in writing and publishing.

Electives

Allow students to tailor their studies to their specific interests and career aspirations. Students are encouraged to take at least one elective from studio courses offered by the Schools of Art, or Design Studies. While some students will seek to focus and deepen their studies, others will choose electives across a broad range of art and design courses and courses offered by the School of Art History and Theory and other schools and faculties of the University. Elective courses offered by the College of Fine Arts are listed in the section "Elective Courses for Undergraduate Programs" on pages 61-79 of this Handbook. Courses offered by the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences may be taken as electives, subject to prerequisite requirements, or as a major sequence, defined as an approved progression of six courses in a school or program.

General Education

Students are required as part of their studies, to complete 12 units of credit in General Education courses or their equivalent. General Education courses, normally taken at Kensington campus, contribute to the broad educational objectives of the degree.

Prerequisites

One or both of SAHT1101 Mapping the Modern and/or SAHT1102 Mapping the Postmodern and one or both of SAHT1211 Theories of the Image and/or SAHT1212 Theories of Art History and Culture are prerequisites for all other core subjects.

Program rules

1. A student must complete 144 units of credit including 12 units of General Education.
2. The degree must include:
   • a major (58 units) in Art & Design Theory.
   • a co-major (42 units).
3. A student must complete at least 48 units in Level 1 courses; the maximum Level 1 units to be counted to the award is 60.
4. No student may commence Level 2 courses until 24 Level 1 units have been successfully completed.
5. For entry to Honours a student must complete at least 24 units at Level 3 in the relevant theory core and major sequence and will have achieved no less than an average of 70% in core courses in session 4, 5 and 6. Students who have been awarded a degree of bachelor at pass level may be permitted to enrol for the award of the degree at honours level with credit for all subjects completed, if, during their studies for the pass degree, they have satisfied the prerequisites for entry to the honours level laid down by the School or the equivalent of those prerequisites.
6. A major comprises at least 30 units at Levels 2 and 3 in an area of study, including at least 12 units at Level 3.

Courses

Theory Major

SAHT1101
Mapping the Modern
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4  HPW4  S1

This course examines the production of art, art theory and art's meanings within changing social, political and cultural contexts. Commencing with the nineteenth-century and concluding with the outbreak of World War II, Mapping the Modern looks at different modes of visual representation ranging from Realism, Symbolism and Expressionism to early twentieth-century avant-gardes such as Futurism, Dada and Surrealism. These are considered against the backdrop of industrialisation, technological transformations, colonisation and international conflicts.

SAHT1102
Mapping the Postmodern
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4  HPW4  S2

Commencing with the art of totalitarian regimes, and tracing the transformations in art practice and theory from the 1940s to the present, Mapping the Postmodern examines major forms of cultural production in relation to changing social, political and economic patterns. Issues relating to Formalism, Pop, image and text, the de-materialisation of art, and performance are addressed, as well as Feminist theories and practice, post-colonial culture, international exhibitions and the new technologies.

SAHT1121
Theories of the Image
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW3  S1

An introduction to ways of understanding and evaluating the making, reception and theoretical understandings of images in our culture. Different cultures and historical periods have treated images in radically different ways with different ways of understanding the way images relate to their producer(s), viewer(s) and to the world. There is also a philosophical concern with the nature of the image, how it is able to have meaning, to represent at all. How are we able to read images? Is it a natural process or culturally determined? These issues will be addressed by critically examining the different ways of understanding the artistic image in Western and Non-western arts, and in crucial developments in Western art history (including Renaissance perspective, the invention of photography, photo-mechanical reproduction; Modernism and abstraction; and feminist critiques).

SAHT1212
Theories of Art History and Culture
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW3  S2

Introduces art history and cultural analysis as forms of narrative, which aim to explain and integrate cultural objects into historical or other order. Draws upon and critically assesses the key methodologies (such as connoisseurship, periodisation, formalism, iconography, historicism and historical materialism, social history, psychoanalysis, semiotics, high culture/popular culture, ethnocentrism, and feminism). These methodologies will be examined by reference to such historians as Wolfflin, Panofsky, Gombrich, Baxandall, Fry, Antal, Clark, and Pollock.

SAHT1213
Approaches to Australian Art
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW3  S1

This course introduces some of the preoccupations of Australian art in the years since colonisation. Issues to be discussed include: the notion of the artist as a recorder in the 19th century and a tourist in the 20th; the search for a 'Great' Australian artist; national identity and art; links between art and commerce: the idea of modern in an Australian context; and attempts to place Australian art in an international context.

SAHT1214
Methods of Research and Writing on Art
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW3  S2

This course is primarily concerned with the teaching of skills necessary to conduct specific research projects. The focus is on methods of researching primary material as well as locating archival documentation; in order to evaluate and effectively utilise different forms of visual and theoretical evidence for research projects. Topics include field work methods, such as oral history, together with knowledge of indexing procedures, statistical analysis and the utilisation of computer resources, as well as critical methodologies for appraising research material. The course also includes topics to address the logical construction of a valid argument, the metoretical promises of different genres of writing and the delineation of ideas.

SAHT2211
Grand Narratives of Western Art
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW3  S1

To tell progressive stories of art, grand narratives have been formed in Western histories of art which have entailed ordering a selection of historical material into Eurocentric and ethnocentric evolutions. This course is constructed to cut across wide historical fields and their periodisations to critically examine how these grand narratives have been formed in Western art and its histories. It sets out to focus upon the nature of historical material constituted as evidence for such grand narratives as classicism from Ancient Greece to Nazi Germany, mimesis in terms of illusionism involving the Renaissance control of space and direction of the gaze. It will also explore the geopolitical nature of representing the environment through such genres as landscape and cityscape, formations of gender, sexuality and the body through images of the nude, and notions of race as insinuated through such stylistic classifications as orientalism and primitivism, and their connections with Western connotations of exoticism as eroticism.

SAHT2212
Art and Cultural Difference
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW3  S2

The conceptualisation of difference, diversity and multiplicity, both within and across cultural boundaries, has occupied a central position in the historical trajectory of Art, particularly since the end of World War II and the advent of a variety of neo and postcolonialisms. Topics covered include the relationship of theories of ethnicity, gender, race, class, culture, knowledge and power to the complex history and practices of art. These will be addressed by critically examining Adorno, Benjamin, Freud, Ingary and Marx, and theorists and artists of colonial struggle such as Kahlo, Rivera, Sartre and Fanon. The implications for art of such contemporary issues as multiculturalism will also be included.
SAHT2213
Memory and Self
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S2
This course traces contemporary ideas of body and subjectivity through the work of a range of artists and writers. Its major focus is on the experience of memory and self-understanding. It addresses the questions of how memory is constituted and how it is crucial to our sense of self; of how memory affects our relations to images and objects, and how memory is represented. The course also examines human relations to space, the themes of horror and humour, and the topics of gesture, performativity and mimesis. Contemporary art and writing practices will be used as the basis for a creative engagement with theoretical ideas. Focus texts include writing by Christian Rotanski, Georges Perec, Oliver Sacks, Don Laub, Julia Kristeva, Jeff Wall, Judith Butler and the stories of the stolen children.

SAHT3211
Theories of Meaning/meaning of Theory
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC5 HPW3 S1
This course will re-examine a number of theoretical approaches to the understanding of images and objects that have been addressed during the course. These approaches will be applied to a range of artworks produced in Australia and Internationally over the last decade or so. It will offer an overview of many of the contemporary developments, themes and issues that have concerned artists in the period up to and beyond postmodernism. Issues to be considered include: how objects and images come to have meaning; the ways in which artworks differ from other objects; the relations between language and visual images; the ways images and objects can be seen and the sort of viewer(s) they imply; the different forms of perceptual address that we bring to artworks, including visual, tactile and kinaesthetic; and the significance of art images and objects in relation to the politics of information dissemination, gender, postcolonialism, class and ethnicity.

SAHT3212
Art and the Culture of Everyday Life
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S2
This course examines the major structures and ways of thinking which have both constituted and transformed the practices of art, and criticism and evaluation of art in an era characterised by the pervasiveness of mass media and the aestheticization of everyday life. The course explores the forms and significance of popular culture in the 20th century, focussing on such phenomena as consumerism, mass media, TV and advertising, subcultures, the city and the suburb. The interdisciplinary development of cultural studies provides tools for reading artistic strategies in the light of television, film, computer imaging, the popular press and advertising. The work of theorists such as Jean Baudrillard, Michel de Certeau and Meaghan Morris is applied to these areas and critically examined.

SAHT3213
Museum Studies: Exhibitions, Collections and Material Culture
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S2
This course reviews theoretical frameworks and current research on museums and art museums. It examines the history of collecting and exhibiting, and the museum as an institution. Taking the new museology as its theoretical starting point, it considers the cultural role of museums. It compliments the practical emphasis of the professional contexts strand within the core of the BAArtTH by exploring critical theoretical approaches to museum culture. Its emphasis is on material culture, objects, artworks and curatorship in the contexts of collections and exhibitions.

Co-major in Art and Design Contexts

SAHT1221
Audiences for Art
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1
The course exposes students to the different types of contemporary art exhibited locally - in public galleries, dealer galleries, contemporary art spaces, artist run initiatives, community centres and non-art spaces such as shopping malls. Designed to reflect the diversity both of art and the institutions through which it is viewed, this subject is structured around an examination of works in situ. Students are encouraged to engage with work in relation to specific contexts, to consider issues of taste and value and how these are mediated by place and modes of display.

SAHT1222
The Production of Art
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S2
The emphasis in this course is on a behind the scenes exposition of art. It looks critically at the processes by which visual art is made available to viewing publics. These processes take into account a range of concerns (practical, strategic, ideological) that vary widely between institutions. Students are introduced to various professional art practices, through the processes of curating, managing, catalogue writing and production, exhibition display and handling of works. The infrastructure of the art industry, including the administration of State Museums and other art organisations, such as funding bodies, are presented as a subject for practical purposes, as well as critical consideration.

SAHT2221
Genres of Art Writing
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course examines different genres of writing on the visual arts, with an emphasis on contemporary practices. Newspaper reviews, journal criticism, scholarly catalogue essays, in house catalogue notes, coffee table art books and collaborative works between artists and writers are studied in terms of their connections to other genres of writing (for example journalese, fictional narrative, descriptive prose). The course looks at these writings within specific cultural fields and their assumed sets of values. It also demonstrates how such categories play an active role in the shaping and production of meanings in art. Students also become participants in the writing, editing and design of the School of Art Theory's magazine, Artwrite.

SAHT2231
Contexts, Professions and Practices
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1
This course orientates students towards professional practice in arts administration, curatorship, writing and other arts-related professions. Students will critically consider the professionalisation of the arts, and the notion of the arts and cultural industries. They will investigate the nature of employment and practice, drawing on theoretical and case study approaches. They will examine the idea of professional skills, and have the opportunity to practise some skills and knowledge-based tasks, such as developing exhibition and funding proposals, preparing budgets and reports, developing marketing and promotion strategies, preparing education and/or public programs, and seeking sponsorships. The aims of the course are to prepare students for the Industry Placement, to help clarify career goals, to give students an understanding of professional practice, and to ensure that they develop the confidence in their preparation for working in the arts.
SAHT3222

Industry Placement
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW0  S1 S2

This course is designed to give students hands-on experience in a particular area of professional practice. In consultation with the subject co-ordinator, students are placed into an institutional framework for a specified period of time. This could be a commercial gallery, museum, artist-run initiative, artists’ studio or arts funding body. The student shall carry out one project while at the institution, and prepare a report at the end of the session on the placement.

Honours

Application for entry to the Bachelor of Art Theory honours program is normally made in Session 6, although students are encouraged to consult staff about the Honours program at any stage in the course. The Honours program consists of a 4th year which is comprised of the research Thesis and two coursework courses (normally Specialist Studies and an approved elective selected from courses offered at an appropriate level by the College of Fine Arts or other faculties of the University).

Students are invited to submit a proposal for the Thesis prior to the commencement of Session, and should consult with the Honours Co-ordinator and other members of staff in preparing the proposal.

SAHT4211

Thesis
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW0  S1 S2

A research thesis of 15-18,000 words, or equivalent research project (for example, in curatorial), on an approved topic. Students are expected to consult with the Honours Co-ordinator in February about their topics and arrange supervision with a member of staff no later than mid-March, when work on the thesis should commence.

SAHT4212

Specialist Studies
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6  HPW3  S1

This course offers intensive investigation of theoretical writing, period, issue or theme. In consultation with a supervisor and the Honours co-ordinator, and subject to the approval of the Head of School, students may undertake Specialist Studies by attending and satisfying the requirements of another UNSW course at an appropriate level.

The BArtTh BA degree program enables students to combine the broad range of offerings available in the BA with the focussed study of the visual arts and culture provided in the BArtTh. Graduates will be prepared for employment in the arts and cultural industries. The professional contexts courses of the BArtTh develop students’ career-related skills and experiences and the theoretical/historical contexts courses provide depth of knowledge about the arts, while the BA component of the degree offers a wide range of complementary humanities and social science studies.

Bachelor of Art Theory and Master of Art Administration

Fast Track program

This ‘fast track’ progression recognises that students who have completed the Bachelor of Art Theory (BArtTh) have undertaken undergraduate studies which prepare them specifically for the Master of Art Administration (MArtAdmin) and will allow those students to benefit from their specialisation at undergraduate level. The ‘fast track’ progression enables students to take four courses of the Master of Art Administration in the third year of the Bachelor of Art Theory. This effectively reduces the total number of courses and the time taken to complete both courses by a full session.

Program rules

1. Admission in the first instance is to the Bachelor of Art Theory, Course 4803. At the end of Year 2, candidates will be permitted to transfer to the Fast Track program plan, subject to the approval of the Head of School of Art History & Theory. Approval will normally require an average of 65% in courses studied.
2. A student must complete a total of 192 units of credit including 12 units of credit of General Education.
3.1 The undergraduate component of the degree must include:
   • a major (52 units of credit) in Art & Design Theory,
   • a co-major (36 units of credit).
3.2 For entry to Honours a student must complete at least 24 units of credit at Level 3 in the relevant theory major and co-major and have the permission of the Head of School.
3.3 A major comprises at least 30 units of credit at Levels 2 and 3 in an area of study, including at least 12 units of credit at Level 3.
4. The postgraduate component of the degree must include:
   • 4 core courses from the Master of Art Administration (includes Research Paper and Internship),
   • 48 units of credit of postgraduate electives.

Refer to electives offered by the School of Art History & Theory in Course 9302 MArtAdmin, page 103. Subject to the approval of the Head of School, students may elect courses offered at an appropriate level by the Schools of Art, Art Education and/or Design Studies, and/or other Faculties of the University.

Bachelor of Art Theory (Honours) and Master of Art Administration

Fast Track Course

Program rules for Bachelor of Art Theory (Honours) apply to the Honours program for the Fast Track Program.
Bachelor of Art Theory and Graduate Diploma

Fast Track

Students taking the Fast Track Bachelor of Art Theory and Master of Art Administration are not permitted to take out the Graduate Certificate in Art Administration. 'Fast track' students are permitted to exit with the Bachelor of Art Theory and Graduate Diploma of Art Administration (3.5 years fulltime equivalent study).

Other Combined Programs

These combined programs recognise the needs of some students to develop their particular interests and/or career aspirations, by providing the opportunity to combine studies in visual arts and culture with the ranges of offerings in the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Social Sciences and Bachelor of Laws.

4806
Bachelor of Art Theory Bachelor of Arts BArtTh BA

Honours Program - Fourth Year

SAED4051 Practices of Research in Art, Design and Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
Clifford Geertz says that those who wish to understand what a science is should look not, in the first instance, to its theories or its findings but to what the practitioners of it do. Research is broadly conceived in this subject as a pattern of practices in which the major agencies which contribute to the research process are perceived as a mutually dependent relation. This course aims to introduce students to the agencies of investigative practice in the humanities and social sciences and to an understanding of their role in the validation, analysis and interpretation of content within the domains of art, design and education. While practices of research in art, design and education vary widely in the their instrumental and political significance it is nevertheless the goal of this subject to enable students, through the analysis of exemplars of research, to rehearse these practices in a manner consistent with an apprenticeship model of learning. In particular students will be able to integrate and apply systematically key agencies of research practice in art, design and education including the role of explanatory theory, the functional stance of the researcher, the constraints imposed by art as the object of investigation, the use of nomothetic and ideographic methods, and the conventions of proposal writing.
SART4045
Honours Program - Fourth Year
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC42_ HPWO

The Bachelor of Digital Media (BDM) Honours program is a one-year full time program, at a higher level of study. The Bachelor of Digital Media encourages a diverse range of media practice and recognises the possible complexity of the media. It is with this in mind that the BDM Honours program may include, where appropriate collaborative work.
Elective Courses for Undergraduate Programs

Students may choose electives from the courses listed below that are offered by the College of Fine Arts. It is also possible to choose electives from other faculties of the University. All other courses (i.e., core courses of degrees) offered at the College of Fine Arts may be available to be undertaken as electives as well. Advice should be sought from the relevant Course Authority if you wish to take courses that are not listed in this section of the Handbook as electives.

Timetable constraints and availability of staff do not allow all courses to be offered every year, although endeavours are made to offer the full range over a three year period. Elective studies will deal in-depth with issues of a theoretical nature concerning the craft arts in historical, contemporary and future-oriented social perspectives and in the application of theory to practice. Studio-oriented electives will include a theoretical examination of the nature of practice and critical inquiry that will extend knowledge, skill and understanding.

History and Theory Electives

History and Theory electives are rotated through a 3 year cycle. Not all currently approved electives, listed below are offered. Course descriptions are given for electives likely to be offered in 2001, subject to student enrolments and staffing.

The Western Tradition

SAHT2601
The Art of Ancient Cultures: Assyria, Mesopotamia, Egypt, Persia, etc
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2

Egyptian pharaoh pyramids, tombs and culture of death, the sculpture and friezes of Assyria and Mesopotamia will be examined in relation to the break-up of the Mycenaen world and matriarchal cultures, together with the shifts of dominance in the Eastern Mediterranean by the Persian Empire, until its defeat by the Greeks. The supremacy of the Athenian Greeks, their rule of demos (democracy) and ethos (ethics) will be explored in relation to the organization of the artist's workshop, together with the shift to Alexandria and Hellenism, and the ultimate displacement and appropriation of Greek culture by the Roman Empire.

SAHT2602
Early Christian, Islamic and Other Cultures
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1

Starting with the displacement of Rome by Ravenna and Constantinian's Byzantium as the new centre of Christianity, the power of the Romanized Christian Empire will be traced, in conjunction with the flourishing of Early Christian Carolingian, Romanesque and Gothic art and culture, until the fall of Constantinople to the Turks in 1453. The shift from a rational scientific and materialist philosophy of ancient Greece and Rome to Christian faith and spiritual values, articulated by such theologians as St Augustine and scholastics as Abelard and Thomas Aquinas, will be examined in relation to Mohammed's conquest of Mecca, the Muslim faith and the spread of the Islamic Empire.

SAHT2603
The Medieval and Renaissance Cultures of Europe
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S2

Within a shift from remote monastic settlements into towns from the 12th century, the emergence of urban cultures will be examined in relation to the organization of the artist's workshop, a domestication of religious imagery, the flourishing of fresco narrative, the emergence of secular patronage and its ramifications upon new genres of art and culture. Humanism and the recording of the Antique, Nominalism and Neoplatonic philosophy, expansions of trade routes and global exploration, together with the rise of European and New World power in such centres as Italy, Holland, Portugal and Spain, will define an historical context for the examination of Renaissance art and culture, and artists as diverse as Donatello, Piero della Francesca, Holbein, Jan Van Eyck and Bosch.

SAHT2604
Mannerism, Baroque and Revolution
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2

This moment in European history - a moment precipitating the colonisation of Australia - often regarded as marking the transition between feudalism and the modern State, will be explored through the centralization of absolute power by such monarchs as Louis XIV, the relationship between dynamic control, Enlightenment ideas and the growth of parliament and ways this led to revolution, revolution and democracy. The interrelationship between Mannerist and Baroque art, within the 17th and 18th century shift of centre from Italy to France, will be examined in this context, together with ways such art became displaced by new concepts and genres of culture and revolutionary art.

SAHT2606
The Painting of Modern Life: French and British Painting in Focus
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2

This course focuses on Realist and Impressionist painting in the second half of the nineteenth-century in France and England. The work is considered within changing social, political and cultural contexts, with special attention paid to its critical reception manifested in reviews and cartoons. Questions to do with gender, class, sexuality, labour and leisure are examined in relation to Courbet, Manet, Morisot, Degas, Holman Hunt and Ford Madox Brown, among others, as well as lesser known figures such as Augustus Egg and Francois Salle.

SAHT2607
Modernism and the 20th Century Experience of Modernity 1890-1950
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S2

This course has been constructed to explore the interrelationship between the rapidly changing conditions of technological modernity and modernist cultures. This exploration will be undertaken through a close examination of individuals and particular groups of artists, such as the Cubists, Futurists, German Expressionists, Surrealists and Russian Constructivists, and the ways in which their art affirms, denies or interrogates modernity.

SAHT2608
Reading the Country
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2

Landscape has been regarded, since its inception as a genre of Western Art, as a means of transforming nature into culture. This course examines different ways in which nature has been transformed into landscape in Western Art from the illuminated manuscripts of the Duc de Berry, the timeless arcadian of Poussin and Claude, the sublime landscapes of Friedrich and Eugene von Guerard to the abstract notations of Fred Williams. These landscapes will be compared with non-Western representations of nature by such Aboriginal artists as Clifford Possum, as well as the Navaro Indian and Chinese artists. Such historical contexts as feudalism (with its social hierarchy based upon tenure of land), the development of geographer's and surveyor's instruments, the Enclosure Acts and colonisation, particularly of Australia, will provide the framework for such readings of the country. Analogies between visually representing the land and possessing it as territory will also be investigated, partially in light of the Mabo case.

SAHT2609
Postindustrialisation, Postmodernity and Postmodernism
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S2

Hyperreality, a society of spectacle and simulacra, an age of postindustrial technocracy, consumerism, obseslecence and the end of ideology all terms used to characterise Postmodernity and distinguish it from The Modern. While the conjunctions of Modernism to Postmodernism remains a contentious issue, their interrelationship will be examined through such characteristics, together with ways in which Postmodernism has been defined through art and culture.

SAHT2610
Histories of Women Artists
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2

This course will critically examine the issues of gender in art history from a number of perspectives. Social and cultural analysis will be applied to the work of a variety of women artists. Art Historical perspectives will be subjected to a feminist reading.
Art and Revolution: Visions of a New Order from Unity to Fragment
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1
This course explores the role of art in revolutionary projects of the twentieth century. Radical shifts in power that occurred during the Nazi regime, Russian, Mexican and Chinese Cultural Revolutions all began with visions of a new social order. The need to visualise a new society has, in some cases, provided opportunities for diverse, experimental art practices, in others art has been reduced to little more than propaganda. Shifts in consciousness from Utopian ideals to the crisis of 1968 will be examined in relation to the reformulation of political strategies after the failed revolution. Contemporary images and issues to be discussed include feminism, nuclear disarmament, environmentalism and the computer revolution.

Australian Art History
SAHT1627
Aboriginal Art
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1
This course will provide an historical overview of the variety of Aboriginal Art Forms that were practised prior to European invasion: it will examine traditionally-based art forms that are still practised in the more remote parts of Australia; it will look to the innovative art forms that have developed in contemporary Aboriginal Australia; it will examine the ethnocentricity of European thinking that can inhibit appreciation of Aboriginal art; and it will address the problem of appropriation of Aboriginal imagery.

Terra Australis: Contact, Aboriginal Art, Settlement
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2
As is now well documented, the colonization of Australia did not directly follow from early European explorers and traders voyages to Terra Australis, the great unknown land lying in the southern hemisphere, but from the political, economic and social circumstances of George III’s England at the end of the Enlightenment. Whilst myths of Terra Australis will be examined in this subject, the prime focus will be upon the process of colonization, the institution of a penal colony and its impact upon the indigenous Aboriginal population. The emergence of a colonial culture with such artists as Joseph Lyon, Muriel, will also be examined, together with the shifts in society and culture, and representations of gender, aboriginals and migrant races which occurred during the Gold Rush period with such professional artists as John Glover, Eugene Von Guerard and Adelaide Ironside, and such growing patrons as the State’s Galleries.

SAHT2622
Australian Art and Culture 1870-WWII
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1
The transition from established colonies to an emerging nation found expression in the art of the Australian settlers. Conventionally, this process is represented through certain landscape traditions, notably the rural bush mythology. This course examines the diverse art of the emerging nation, including the rural tradition along with other genres. The foundations of national culture were built on unresolved and troubling responses to modernity, on the one hand, and the displacement of Aboriginal peoples by European settlement, on the other. Formations of nation leading to Federation will be explored in relation to the open-air camps of painting and the Heidelberg School, aestheticism and the revival of classicism through such artists as Norman Lindsay, as well as the emergence of Modernism with such seminal figures as Grace Cossington-Smith. The Second Phase of Modernism, as Bernard Smith calls the period from the Great Depression to World War II, will be considered through such artists as Grace Crowley, Frank Hinder, Thea Proctor and Margaret Preston.

SAHT2624
Contemporary Australian Art and Culture
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S2
The artists and the art of contemporary Australia is explored in the contexts of local, regional, national and international art and cultural relations. Students will be expected to pay close attention to current exhibitions and to extend their familiarity with contemporary Australian art beyond the most readily accessible art exhibited in Sydney. This course goes beyond a review of individual artists and artworks to focus on ways in which underlying and unresolved cultural concerns, consensus and conflict, as well as shifts in artistic practices are identified in contemporary art.

SAHT2625
Australian Identity Formation Through Visual Material Culture
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2
Australian artists and writers played a major role in shaping Australian notions of nationhood and identity. This course critically examines theories of cultural and national identity, nationalism and nation formation through the interdisciplinary and intertextual study of Australian cultural production, with a particular emphasis on visual and material culture. Historical and contemporary works will be studied in the context of shifts in concepts of nation and identity.

Koori and Associated Cultures
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S2
Koori, rather than Aboriginal, is the term used by indigenous people to emphasise their distinct identity. It is a generic term used long ago by the peoples of the central coast of what is now New South Wales. It has been widely adopted by the people of south eastern Australia. In other parts of Australia other terms are used. Today we are witnessing transformations of Koori and other associated cultures. They have strong roots in tradition but they have adapted, and continue to adapt, to changing conditions and external influences. The purpose of this course is to examine developments through a series of lectures by Koori artists and other relevant guest speakers.

Art and the Asia-Pacific
SAHT2631
Colonialism and Art: Orientalism and Primitivism
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1
This course will introduce students to issues involved in looking at the cultural activities and artefacts of non-Western cultures. The ways in which Western knowledge has sought to invent other cultures in its own image or as its antithesis will be examined. The gaining of an understanding of the concept of ethnocentrism and colonialism will be central to the subject, as will the operation of the notion of the primitive in modernist art.

SAHT2632
The Arts of the Pacific: Image, Myth and History
Staff Contact: School Office UOC4 HPW2 S2

In this course students will explore the processes of change in the cultural and social contexts in which the arts of the Pacific region have been created and viewed since the 18th century meeting between European and local people. SAHT2633
Peripheral Visions: Perspectives of Colonial and Post-Colonial Art
Staff Contact: School Office UOC4 HPW2 S1

This course will investigate the effects of the spread of Euro-American modernism through the so-called Third World during the 20th century and particularly during the period following World War II. It will analyse the ways in which different cultures selectively adopt and transform aspects of various modernist styles and the ways in which these styles are incorporated into indigenous visual practice. We shall examine such matters as the relationship between economic imperialism and cultural production, the transition from colonialism to postcolonialism, the effects of tourism and the value of decentred postmodern modes of understanding in a Third World context. Art of the Asia-Pacific region, Africa and Latin America will be addressed. Some general knowledge of the evolution of modern and postmodern art will be assumed. Peripheral Visions 2 (see below) will concentrate on Asia, South East Asia and the Indian Sub-Continent. Peripheral Visions 1 will address issues related to Africa, the Americas and elsewhere.

SAHT3634
Peripheral Visions 2: Perspectives of Colonial and ‘Peripheral’ Art Practiced in Asia, India, SE Asia
Staff Contact: School Office UOC4 HPW2 S2

This course will investigate the effects of the spread of Euro-American ‘modernism’ through the Asian, Indian and South East Asian region during the Twentieth Century and particularly during the period following World War II. It will analyse the ways in which different cultures selectively adopt and transform aspects of various modernist styles and the ways in which these styles are incorporated into indigenous and local visual practices. It will examine such matters as the relationship between economic imperialism and cultural production, the transition from colonialism to postcolonialism, the effects of tourism and the usefulness of otherwise of decentred postmodern modes of understanding in a non-European context.

Critical and Cultural Theory

SAHT2213
Memory and Self
Staff Contact: School Office UOC4 HPW2 S2

This course traces contemporary ideas of body and subjectivity through the work of a range of artists and writers. Its major focus is on the experience of memory and self-understanding. It addresses the questions of how memory is constituted and how it is crucial to our sense of self; of how memory affects our relations to images and objects, and how memory is represented. The course also examines human relations to space, the themes of horror and humour, and the topics of gesture, performativity and mimesis. Contemporary art and writing practices will be used as the basis for a creative engagement with theoretical ideas. Focus texts include writing by Christian Boltanski, Georges Perec, Oliver Sackes, Don Laub, Julia Kristeva, Jeff Wall, Judith Butler and the stories of the stolen children.

SAHT2641
Introduction to Modern Aesthetics
Staff Contact: School Office UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2

SAHT2642
Theories of Subjectivity and the Body
Staff Contact: School Office UOC4 HPW2 S2

This course will explore the ways in which our culture produces us as social subjects and as sexual identities. It will investigate the social construction of norms, taboos and perversions, covering such issues as sadism, masochism, incest and pornography. Particular attention will be paid to the role of visual culture in both the maintenance and subversion of norms. We will draw upon the work of a variety of theorists (Michel Foucault, Jacques Lacan, Sigmund Freud, Giles Deleuze, Kaja Silverman, the Marquis de Sade, Judith Butler, Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick and contemporary Queer theorists), in addition to discussing various artist and film makers.

This course will explore the boundary between art and pornography and the social function of that boundary in western society. It will look at the ways in which bodies are eroticised and/or designated as pornographic or perverse. Concepts such as fetishisation, voyeurism, sadism and masochism will be discussed in relation to art history and contemporary art practice. The politics of pornography will be debated in relation to such issues as gender/feminism, child sexuality, censorship and AIDS.

SAHT2644
Psychoanalysis and Art
Staff Contact: School Office UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2

This course is designed to provide students with knowledge of the theories of psychoanalysis which can be used in a study of visual arts. The theories to be studied include Carl Gustave Jung’s notions of the archetypes, Sigmund Freud’s psychoanalytic explanations of motivation, and feminist critiques of psychoanalysis. These theories are applied to an interpretation of dream images, popular visual culture and fine art. Issues addressed include the meaning of dreams, sexuality and difference, personality development and spirituality.

SAHT2645
Art and the Politics of Identity
Staff Contact: School Office UOC4 HPW2 S2

This lecture and seminar course focuses on the definitions of identities within art practices of the modern period (c. 1700 to the present). This subject will reference the visual and written languages that have informed notions of self, community and nation. While briefly referring to pre-twentieth century conditions, this subject aims to provide students with an overview of the ways in which contemporary art (from c. 1970) has been employed to convey the politicalised information that constitutes identity. The energy of the cultural pluralism of gay and lesbian art will be foregrounded to illustrate this theme within the histories of recent art. Because of the nature of the content, this subject will also examine low art forms, such as cartoons and advertising, even fanzines, in an attempt to provide a wide context for the manifestations of the political in society. Students will be expected to write and speak about the moral, aesthetic and philosophical arguments that attend to art with political content.
SAHT2646
Seminar in Womens Studies
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S2
This course will examine recent feminist art practices in Australia and overseas. The gaining of an understanding of feminism will be central to the course. Feminist theories will be explored and applied to the work of artists and art historians. Issues such as the representation of the body, transgressive practices and censorship will be considered. The student will be encouraged to apply their study of women artists to develop a more complete understanding of their own art practice and of art production generally.

SAHT2649
Creative Writing for Artists
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1

Many visual artists develop and maintain a writing practice that informs, supplements and enriches their art, and/or that complements work presented in exhibitions and artists' books. In this course, students will be encouraged to read the writing of artists and develop their own writing directions and skills. Particular attention is paid to the forms of creative writing that many artists appear to find valuable, including short stories, poetry and autobiography.

SAHT2650
Literature and Art
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S2
In this course, literature about art, craft and design is read and discussed. Many writers of fiction have been fascinated by the creative process and have sought to explore their own experience of creativity, imagination, craft and art through their representations of visual artists and artwork. In doing so, they frequently present us with intriguing and sometimes surprising images of visual artists, their processes and their art. In this subject, novels, short stories and poems offer writers insights to enrich and sometimes challenge our views of art and artists.

SAHT2651
Women Art and Power
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1
This course examines women's relationships to art. The course investigates the depiction of women in art throughout history, making comparisons with contemporary depictions of women, and drawing in cross-cultural comparisons. Another way of considering women's relationships to art is to look at women's depictions of themselves and other women. Students will be encouraged to analyse critically the depiction and involvement of women in the construction of popular visual culture, such as advertising, television, comics, cartoons, film, pornography and the news media. Theoretical perspectives are based on feminism, semiotics, psychoanalysis and art theory.

SAHT2652
Art and Activism
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1
Activism refers to the public manifestation of a politicised consciousness. If art is concerned with the transmission of widely held belief structures it can be argued that, from Neolithic times, art and propaganda have always been linked. While briefly referring to pre-twentieth century conditions this course looks at a wide range of cultural practices (the traditional arts to photography and performance, video, film and installation) from the 1960s. Essentially an historical survey of art with politicised content.

SAHT2653
Dance - Party Culture
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC4 HPW2 S1 S2
This course examines the relationship between design and dance-party culture with reference to fashion, graphics, music, film and architecture. Topics examined include geographies of youth culture, the carnivalesque, clubbing and consumption, new masculinities, sexuality, cyber-feminism, spatiality and sensation, techno music and computer-generated graphics, psychadelic design and drug culture. Theoretical frameworks for the study of visual texts are drawn from sub-culture theory, critical theory, cultural studies and sociology, with reference to theorists including Theodor Adorno, M.M. Bakhtin, Gaston Bachelard, Michel de Certeau, Deleuze and Guattari, and Claude Levi-Strauss.

Objective of the General Education Program

The following objectives were approved by the Council of the University in December 1994:

1. To provide a learning environment in which students acquire, develop, and deploy skills of rational thought and critical analysis;
2. To enable students to evaluate arguments and information;
3. To empower students to systematically challenge received traditions of knowledge, beliefs and values;
4. To enable students to acquire skills and competencies, including written and spoken communication skills;
5. To ensure that students examine the purposes and consequences of their education and experience at University, and to foster acceptance of professional and ethical action and the social responsibility of graduates;
6. To foster among students the competence and the confidence to contribute creatively and responsibly to the development of their society;
7. To provide structured opportunities for students from disparate disciplines to co-operatively interact within a learning situation;
8. To provide opportunities for students to explore discipline and paradigm bases other than those of their professional or major disciplinary specialisation through non-specialist subjects offered in those other areas;
9. To provide an environment in which students are able to experience the benefits of moving beyond the knowledge boundaries of a single discipline and explore cross- and interdisciplinary connections;
10. To provide a learning environment and teaching methodology in which students can bring the approaches of a number of disciplines to bear on a complex problem or issue.

General Education Requirements

The basic General Education requirements are the same for students in all single degree programs. Over the course of a degree program students:

- satisfactorily complete a minimum of 12 units of credit in General Education courses or their equivalent.

Because the objectives of General Education require students to explore discipline and paradigm bases other than those of their professional or major disciplinary specialisation, all students are excluded from counting courses toward the fulfilment of the General Education requirement, which are similar in content or approach to courses required in their program.

Faculty Requirements

Each faculty has responsibility for deciding what courses are not able to be counted towards the General Education requirement for their students. College of Fine Arts students are required to undertake their General Education in other Faculties of the University. The following courses are not available as General Education for students in the following degrees:

The program consists of lectures, seminars and hands-on activities, a 10,000 word research paper and an industry placement of no less than 180 hours. Each course normally requires attendance at a 3 hour lecture plus related research and assignment work. The research paper draws on the experiences of the internship but is an independent, supervised project that involves a time commitment at least equivalent to other core courses.

Core Courses

SAHT9111 Management and Organisation: Systems, Services and Survival
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course examines the management and administrative skills and knowledge required from individuals to take up positions as directors and managers of arts and related organisations. It covers aspects of management and organisational structures in existing institutions both large and small, public and commercial. It includes the establishment of new organisations and the planning and development of systems designed to ensure the delivery of services and the long term survival of arts organisations and institutions, their human and material resources and the ideas and ideals which drive them.

Note(s): Core course MArtAdmin.

SAHT9112 Writing for Different Cultures and Audiences
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course is about the kinds of writing that those working in art institutions most commonly undertake: writing from the perspective of the institution. It recognises that writing may have many different functions and writers must learn to adapt their style, vocabulary and technique, according to who will read the product. Questions to be considered include the current debate on captions, writing for children and non-specialist publics, research techniques including oral history, press kits and media management, and different types of catalogues. The method of study is very much hands on. It involves, among other things, the editing and layout of an edition of ArtWrite, a magazine of student writing.

SAHT9113 Cultural Property, Ethics and the Law
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2

This course examines the ethical and legal implications of the interactions generated between artists, exhibiting spaces and the viewing/purchasing public in contemporary society. It enables the development of a broader critical perspective on the cultural, legal, political and moral contexts of gallery and museum management. Issues discussed include contracts, copyright, acquisitions and disposal of works, moral rights and censorship, conflict of interest, the responsibilities of trustees.

SAHT9114 Exhibition Management and Curatorial Studies
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2

This course examines the theoretical and practical aspects of exhibition management. It develops a knowledge of curatorial procedures with particular reference to the initiation, presentation, interpretation and planning of art works in exhibition settings. Specific attention is paid to the administrative skills necessary to mount exhibitions, the production of visual and written documentation and the methods of critical engagement with images and objects. Visits to exhibitions as well as participation in the planning and implementation of an exhibition form an essential part of this subject.

SAHT9116 Research Paper
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2

This allows for the focussing of investigative, analytical and theoretical skills. Topics must relate to the broad area of the internship and are chosen in consultation with a supervisor who will guide and direct the project. The 10,000 word study, one copy of which is retained by the College, may include the use of film, video and audio tape or photographic documentation where relevant. While it may draw directly on experiences gained during the internship, the research paper must be treated as an independent project.

---

Core Options

SAHT9121 Exhibition and Gallery Design Development
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S2

This course considers two areas of design development. These are the theoretical and practical aspects of exhibition design and display techniques and the specific design demands of a gallery space. The ways in which the objectives of an exhibition may be identified are discussed, and all aspects related to project initiation and completion examined. These include planning and design management, budget formulation and controls, production and installation management, spatial requirements and evaluation, light and lighting.

SAHT9122 Education and Public Programs
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S2

This course covers issues surrounding public programs and education in the context of art galleries, museums and related institutions. It addresses questions to do with the identification and definition of audiences, examines the needs of non-specialist communities as well as educational institutions, and takes account of the practicalities of budgeting and planning. The development of programs using volunteer guides (and their training), floor talks, lectures, seminars and conferences is presented as a subject for practical purposes as well as critical consideration. Also included is a consideration of exhibitions for purely educational purposes.

SAHT9123 Marketing and Promotion
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2

This course focuses on issues in marketing for those working in arts and related fields. Topics covered include methods of audience research and ways of undertaking group surveys and their implementation. How to define the unique qualities of a target institution and create a public image around this separateness are issues explored, together with detailed studies of promotional and fundraising strategies.

SAHT9124 Arts and Cultural Policy
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S2

This course reviews the development of arts and cultural policy and policy implementation in Australia. Particular attention is paid to the role of the Australia Council and the development of national and regional infrastructure, and factors determining the level and allocation of public funding. Comparisons are drawn with other nations, particularly the United Kingdom, Canada and the United States of America.

SAHT9125 The Australian Art Market
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1

This course investigates the art market as a process of bringing art works to sale. It offers an historical overview from the Renaissance artists workshops and guilds and a detailed study of contemporary Australian art. The subject explores the development of patronage, taste and collecting, and the impact of these phenomena on the subsequent rise of the international art market. The collection of Catherine the Great exemplifies the relationship between art and power, a key theme of the subject. Her massive accumulation of artworks can be understood in the context of collecting as an instrument of diplomatic and cultural legitimacy. Patronage and taste are explored through studies of The Grand Tour, Chinoiserie and the appropriation of Asian style by Europeans, and the collecting by Australian entrepreneurs in the 1980s for investment and corporate profile. Key elements in the Australian art market under investigation in this course include the fragmentation of the art market; Australian Movable Cultural Heritage, and artistic reputation. The subject assists students to understand commodification in the art world and the processes by which artworks are brought to sale.

SAHT9126 Human Resources Management
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2

This course provides individuals working in an arts based organisation with competencies relevant to the inter-personal and inter-group skills demanded in the efficient and effective management of organisations. It aims to fulfill the needs of individuals interested in the principles of planning, organisation, communication and evaluation of personnel within an organisation and, as well, the needs of directors and supervisors who wish to develop expertise in essential personnel management aspects of their job within an appropriate theoretical framework.

SAHT9127 Conservation and Collections Management
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2

This course introduces the principles of conservation and illustrates its role as an integrated component of collections management. It examines the physical nature of works of art and the interactions with their environment. The range of responses of conservation to collections is discussed as well as conservation’s relationship with an institution’s custodial responsibilities and public programs. Conservators and registrars at selected Sydney institutions are visited in order to facilitate a comparative overview of conservation practice.

SAHT9128
History of Exhibitions of Australian Art
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW2 S1
This course will re-examine a number of theoretical approaches to the understanding of images and objects that have been addressed during the undergraduate course. These approaches will be brought to bear on a range of artworks in Australia and internationally over the last decade. It will offer an overview of many of the contemporary developments, themes and issues that have concerned artists in the period after postmodernism; that is, during the late eighties and nineties. Issues to considered include: how objects and images come to have meaning and how stable the meaning is, the ways in which artworks differ from other objects, the relations between language and visual images, the ways in which images and objects can be seen and the sort of viewer(s) they imply, the different forms of perceptual address that we bring to artworks, including the visual, tactile and kinaesthetic and the significance of artworks in relation to the politics of information dissemination, gender, postcolonialism, class and ethnicity.

SAHT9129
The Development of Art Criticism in Australia
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1
This course examines the history of art criticism and writing about art in an Australian context and considers how these practices reflect, diagnose and affect the nature of the visual arts. There is a constant evaluation of recent art criticism from a variety of sources and a questioning of what actually constitutes criticism. At the same time, the subject goes back to the start of writing about art in Australia and looks at the practice from the beginning of European settlement to recent times in an historical context.

SAHT9130
Art Galleries and Collections in Australia
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S2
This course balances the historical and theoretical aspects of collections (public, private and corporate) with the practical issues involved. How and why collections are formed; the aesthetic and political assumptions behind collecting policies; how well various collections serve their constituencies are some of the issues that are explored, together with aspects of conservation, storage, documentation and access as they relate to the practical aspects of collection management. Visits are made to various public institutions including state and regional galleries and, where possible, selected private and corporate collections.

SAHT9131
Visual and Museum Cultures of the Asia-Pacific Region
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course introduces a comparative study of contemporary visual art and museum cultures in the Asia-Pacific region. As arts professionals - curators, administrators, writers, etc - develop relationships with colleagues through the region, an understanding, not only of the visual arts but also of the museum sector, is becoming essential. Case studies of international exhibitions, and related arts programs, will be examined.

The Program

This program provides professional development courses in art and design education. Students will investigate current visual arts and design interests in courses relating to recent syllabus changes in Australia and overseas. Students will be able to:

- make sense of new syllabus concepts, in particular practices, frames, the conceptual framework and case studies
- develop practical approaches to the analysis and processes of assessment and reporting requirements
- take up studio courses and develop bodies of work in drawing, design, digital and electronic media, painting, photography through individually negotiated projects
- learn to write about art through seminars, workshops and critical forums with leading critics, historians and curators
- gain skills using the internet, web and other electronic data bases.

Faculty who teach in this program include art and design educators who are the architects of recent syllabus change, along with practising artists, designers and art historians and theorists. Courses emphasise individual contact with faculty, and the opportunity to discuss the most recent developments in art, design and education with senior academics who are widely published, have exhibited internationally and are recognised as eminent within their fields.

A wide choice of electives combined with flexible modes of delivery provide opportunities for individuals to tailor a program of study to match their changing preferences, professional interests, and personal needs. Typically classes attract primary, secondary and tertiary educators and others with an interest in visual arts education in a range of settings. Various scholarships are available to support student participation in the Master of Art and Design Education and are detailed on page 118.

On completing the program students achieve a recognised postgraduate credential and increased confidence to practically manage change and implement the new syllabus.

Students may exit with a Graduate Certificate in Art and Design Education (7304) after the completion of three courses, one core, one core option and one elective, studied full time or part time, and selected from the Master of Art and Design Education.

Courses

Core in Art and Design Education

SAED9002 Practices of Research in Art, Design and Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
Clifford Geertz says that those who wish to understand what a science is should look not, in the first instance, to its theories or its findings but to what the practitioners of it do. Research is broadly conceived in this course as a pattern of practices in which the major agencies which contribute to the research process are perceived as a mutually dependent relation. This course aims to introduce students to the agencies of investigative practice in the humanities and social sciences and to an understanding of their role in the validation, analysis and interpretation of content within the domains of art, design and education. While practices of research in art, design and education vary widely in the their instrumental and political significance it is nevertheless the goal of this course to enable students, through the analysis of exemplars of research, to rehearse these practices in a manner consistent with an apprenticeship model of learning. In particular students will be able to integrate and apply systematically key agencies of research practice in art, design and education including - the role of explanatory theory, the functional stance of the researcher, the constraints imposed by art as the object of investigation, the use of nomothetic and ideographic methods, and the conventions of proposal writing.

SAED9004 Curriculum in Art, Design and Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S2
This course will provide students with modernist and post modernist theoretical frameworks of curriculum evaluation and critique. Curriculum as an educational construct is problematised. Curricula investigations aim to reveal and interpret the force, agency and power in curriculum policy and practice. Particular reference will be made to the critical methodologies of Habermas and the genealogical archeology of Foucault as appropriate to an interpretation of the visual arts in education.

SAED9006 Theoretical Frameworks in Art, Design and Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course aims to introduce students to the theoretical frameworks which form the basis for the conception of visual arts education as a distinctive field. Theoretical frameworks in art education will be explained as a largely discontinuous collection of histories. These histories are united by ruling paradigms many originating outside of the field in the human sciences, and in the practices of the visual arts. Examples include, psychoanalytical approaches to creativity, anthropological and socio-cultural studies, and cognitive theories.

SAED9001 Education Studies
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3
This course aims to explore and analyse the history, philosophy and psychology of education in Australia and overseas for the purposes of the art teacher, the art administrator, and the art educator in a whole school environment. Subject content will include - analysis of the distinctions between models of explanation, models and methodologies (e.g. anthropological, analytic); overview of the theories and methods involved in studying the history, philosophy, psychology, sociology and politics of education. Analysis of the above issues will be made from the perspectives of, equity in schooling and focus on whole school change; disadvantaged education; accountability in the school - financial, social, educational; community involvement - work, education and unemployment; integration of minority groups; decision making - patterns, models, methods; leadership in a total school environment; control of education/schools, the politics of educational research and change, examination of an interactionist model of educational development and change.

SAED9005 Theory of Knowing in Art, Design and Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1
This course aims to further students understanding of the cognitive foundations of the visual arts. It provides a general introduction to epistemology including concepts such as belief, truth, perception, and representation. Reference will be drawn to recent concepts in metaphysics including, theory of mind, ontology, and the self. The subject goes on to reposition these concepts within the assumptions of a variety of philosophical perspectives. Students will be required to examine a range of these concepts and perspectives for their relevance to the teaching of art.
SAED9024
Art and Design Criticism in Art Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course introduces a range of contemporary theories of art and design criticism. Students will examine and evaluate art-critical character of the critical act are experienced, analysed and understood as a set of analytical and evaluative practices which enable judgement and revision of critical explanations.

SAED9025
Qualitative Research in Art, Design and Education
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course investigates and applies qualitative research methods to student-designed research projects in art, design and art education. Data collection techniques covered include interviews, observations and other field-based strategies, as well as nonreactive sources such as document retrieval and analysis. The use of computer-assisted qualitative data analysis (CAQDA) to assist with the design, management and analysis of qualitative information will be introduced through workshops and seminars. As well as designing and applying conceptual and empirical models of qualitative research, strategies for reporting qualitative research projects will be reviewed and applied.

SAED9026
Contextual Studies in Teaching Art and Design
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S1 S2
This course provides opportunities for teachers to develop skills in the practice of classroom research and experiment with ways to study, interpret and apply contemporary visual arts teaching theories and methodologies within the practical context of their school, as appropriate to individual teaching responsibilities. Utilising clinical supervision and action research methods, individual projects focus on models of effective teaching and documentation, supervision,
professional development and evaluation.

SAHT9124
Arts and Cultural Policy
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW3 S2 S

regional infrastructure, and factors determining the level and allocation of public funding. Comparisons are drawn with other nations, particularly the United Kingdom, Canada and the United States of America.

SAHT9126

SAHT9136
The Art and Culture of Everyday Life
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW2 S1 S2
This course looks critically at the different formulations of art in relation to mass culture. It gives an overview of the social and technologically development of mass culture including the advent of photography, film, television, advertising and the popular press. Special attention is paid to the ways in which the relationship between art and mass culture has been conceptualised by such seminal thinkers as Michael de Certeau, Fernand Braudel, Paul Virilio and Jean Baudrillard.

SAHT9137
Art and Cultural Difference
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW2 S2
The conceptualisation and evaluation of cultural difference has occupied a central position in western art and culture, particularly since the period of colonisation began. This subject sees cultural difference as a series of narratives and counter-narratives. Topics covered include the ways in which cultural difference has been addressed in art and literature by colonised subjects, the place of art in anti-colonial liberation movements of the twentieth century and French constructions of the Orient in sculpture and painting. Particular attention is paid to the writings of, among others, Walter Benjamin, Theodor Adorno, Luce Irigaray and Franz Fanon.

SAHT9138
Art After Postmodernism
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW2 S1
This course will re-examine a number of theoretical approaches to the understanding of images and objects that have been addressed during the undergraduate course. These approaches will be brought to bear on a range of artworks produced in Australia and internationally over the last decade. It will offer an overview of many of the contemporary developments, themes and issues that have concerned artists in the period after postmodernism, that is, during the late eighties and nineties. Issues to be considered will include how objects and images come to have meaning and how stable this meaning is, the ways in which artworks differ from other objects, the relations between language and visual images, the ways in which images and objects can be seen and the sort of viewer’s they imply, the different forms of perceptual ‘address’ that we bring to artworks including the visual, tactile and kinaesthetic and the significance of artworks in relation to the politics of information dissemination, gender, postcolonialism, class and ethnicity.

SAHT9139
Art, Technology and New Media
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW2 S2
This course explores the ways in which artists have responded to developments in technology and new media. A range of practices are examined from digital media to holography to technology-performance. In addition to investigating the work of specific artists, the subject investigates the ways in which museums and galleries are responding to the demands of new media and developing new strategies of presentation. The course will also introduce a range of theoretical work on new media and on virtual reality. In particular it will debate the nature of virtual experience, examining the temporal and spatial implications of operating within a virtual environment. The subject incorporates a certain amount of hands-on experience and also demonstrations of artists’ work.

SAHT9140
The Graduate Lecture
Staff Contact: School Office

Attention will be paid to a critical analysis of design history as cultural signifier for a range of cultures including European, American, Asian and Australian examples: a detailed discussion of the cross-cultural connections international design history represents: a comparative analysis of the influence of design philosophers and practitioners on the history of design styles and practice both, nationally and internationally: analysis and application of historical research methodologies to the further elaboration of pre-20th Century design history. Specific attention will be paid to the impact on design of the philosophy of aesthetics with critical analysis and application (to design) of the aesthetic theories of a range or theorists including Hegel and Kant. The import for design of an in-depth sociological analysis of a range of design cultures, including Europe, America, Asia and Australia; the critical analysis of research in the sciences and technologies and their impact on design theory and methodologies.

SAHT9144
Design History and Theory 2
Staff Contact: School Office
UOC6 HPW2 S1 S2
This course will provide candidates with the opportunity for further investigation of the history/theory of design. Attention will be paid to a critical analysis of design history as cultural signifier for a range of cultures including European, American, Asian and Australian examples: a detailed discussion of the cross-cultural connections international design history represents: a comparative analysis of the influence of design philosophers and practitioners on the history of design styles and practice both, nationally and internationally: analysis and application of historical research methodologies to the further elaboration of pre-20th Century design history. Specific attention will be paid to the impact on design of the philosophy of aesthetics with critical analysis and application (to design) of the aesthetic theories of a range or theorists including Benjamin, Foucault and Derrida. The import for design of an in-depth sociological analysis of a range of design cultures, including Europe, America, Asia and Australia; the critical analysis of research in the sciences and technologies and their impact on design theory and methodologies.
This course/module will provide candidates with the opportunity to undertake research projects resulting in a body of data from which considerations and applications of selected philosophical, aesthetic, historical, sociological and psychological positions can be made towards the development of design theory. Candidates may investigate the role of design theory in the development of a range of design cultures with specific reference to the Australian context. Comparative analysis of design theory models, toward the articulation of more complex systems for design analysis will be considered.

MFA

The Master of Fine Arts program enables students of proven ability to engage in the sustained investigation at an advanced level of an area of interest or concern in their visual arts practice. This inquiry takes the form of a supervised research project and leads to the exhibitions, performance, publication or screening of artworks that are complete, coherent and appropriate to the stated inquiry. The significance of the research outcomes may be the contribution to new knowledge to the fine arts, the innovation of a distinctive methodology or approach to visual arts practice, poetics or the new application of technologies in visual arts practice. The products of the inquiry should be the creation of high quality studio based work accompanied by a written component containing documentation of the project and its development.

MFA studies are available in the discipline areas of Digital Imaging, Drawing, Film, Installation, Multimedia Computing, Painting, Performance, Photomedia, Printmedia, Sculpture, Sound, Video, Ceramics, Jewellery, Textiles. Studies in a combination of discipline areas are possible. Students work under the guidance of a qualified supervisor who is usually a member of the School of Art’s full-time lecturing staff. Regular seminars are held at which MFA candidates are required to give a presentation of their research at least once during their program.

Some individual on-campus studio space is available to MFA students; all general College facilities and equipment may be accessed. Research students are encouraged to take an active part in College life.

Conditions for the Award of Master of Fine Arts

1. (1) The degree of Master of Fine Arts by research may be awarded by the Council on the recommendation of the Standing Committee of the College of Fine Arts [hereinafter referred to as the Committee] to a candidate who has demonstrated ability to undertake research by the submission of the results of an original investigation.

Enrolment

3. (1) An application to enrol as a candidate for the degree shall be lodged with the Faculty Manager one month prior to the date at which enrolment is to begin.

(2) In every case before making the offer of a place the Committee shall be satisfied that initial agreement has been reached between the School* and the applicant on the topic area, supervision arrangements, provision of adequate facilities and any coursework to be prescribed and that these are in accordance with the provisions of the guidelines for promoting postgraduate study within the University.

(3) The candidate shall be enrolled either as a full-time or a part-time student.

(4) A full-time candidate will present the thesis for examination no earlier than three years and no later than five years from the date of enrolment and a part-time candidate will present the thesis for examination no earlier than four years and no later than six years from the date of enrolment, except with the approval of the Committee.

(5) The candidate may undertake the research as an internal student i.e. at a campus, teaching hospital, or other research facility with which the University is associated, or as an external student not in attendance at the University except for periods as may be prescribed by the Committee.

(6) The candidate will normally carry out the research on a campus or at a teaching or research facility of the University except that the Committee may permit a candidate to spend a period in the field, within another institution or elsewhere away from the University provided that the work can be supervised in a manner satisfactory to the Committee. In such instances the Committee shall be satisfied that the location and period of time away from the University are necessary to the research program.

(7) The research shall be supervised by a supervisor and where possible a co-supervisor who are members of the academic staff of the School or under other appropriate supervision arrangements approved by the Committee. An external candidate within another organisation or institution will have a co-supervisor at that institution.

Progression

4. (1) The progress of the candidate shall be considered by the Committee following report from the School in accordance with the procedures established within the School and previously noted by the Committee.

(2) The research proposal will be reviewed as soon as feasible after enrolment. For a full-time student this will normally be during the first year of study, or immediately following a period of prescribed coursework. This review will focus on the viability of the research proposal.

(3) Progress in the program will be reviewed within twelve months of the first review. As a result of either review the Committee may cancel enrolment or take such other action as it considers appropriate. Thereafter, the progress of the candidate will be reviewed annually.

Thesis

5. (1) On completing the program of study a candidate shall submit a thesis embodying the results of the investigation.

(2) The candidate shall give in writing to the Faculty Manager two months notice of intention to submit the thesis.

(3) The thesis shall comply with the following requirements:

(a) it must be an original and significant contribution to knowledge of the subject;

(b) the greater proportion of the work described must have been completed subsequent to enrolment for the degree;

(c) it must be written in English except that a candidate in the Faculty of Arts may be required by the Committee to write a thesis in an appropriate foreign language;

(d) it must reach a satisfactory standard of expression and presentation;

(e) it must consist of an account of the candidate's own research but in special cases work done conjointly with other persons may be accepted provided the Committee is satisfied about the extent of the candidate's part in the joint research.

(4) The candidate may not submit as the main content of the thesis any work or material which has previously been submitted for a university degree or other similar award but may submit any work previously published whether or not such work is related to the thesis.

(5) Four copies of the thesis shall be presented in a form which complies with the requirements of the University for the preparation and submission of theses for higher degrees.

(6) It shall be understood that the University retains the four copies of the thesis submitted for examination and is free to allow the thesis to be consulted or borrowed. Subject to the provisions of the Copyright Act, 1968, the University may issue the thesis in whole or in part, in photostat or microfilm or other copying medium.

Examination

6. (1) There shall be not fewer than three examiners of the thesis, appointed by the Academic Board on the recommendation of the Committee, at least two of whom shall be external to the University.

(2) At the conclusion of the examination each examiner shall submit to the Committee a concise report on the thesis and shall recommend to the Committee that:

(a) the thesis merits the award of the degree;

(b) the thesis merits the award of the degree subject to minor corrections, as listed, being made to the satisfaction of the Head of School;

(c) the thesis requires further work on matters detailed in the examiner's report. Should performance in this further work be to the satisfaction of the Higher Degree Committee, the thesis would merit the award of the degree;

(d) the thesis does not merit the award of the degree in its present form and further work as described in the examiner's report is required. The revised thesis should be subject to re-examination;

(e) the thesis does not merit the award of the degree and does not demonstrate that resubmission would be likely to achieve that merit.

(3) If the performance in the further work recommended under (2)(c) above is not to the satisfaction of the Committee, the Committee may permit the candidate to submit the thesis for re-examination as determined by the Committee within a period determined by it, but not exceeding eighteen months.

(4) After consideration of the examiners' reports and the results of any further examination of the thesis, the Committee may require the candidate to submit to written or oral examination before recommending whether or not the candidate be awarded the degree. If it is decided that the candidate be not awarded the degree, the Committee shall determine whether or not the candidate be permitted to resubmit the thesis after a further period of study and/or research.
